Welcome!

Issue 25 24 - 30 June 2017

We're into our second week of 25th birthday celebrations, and we don't even have a hangover! (Yet. We'll save the hangover for the Inside Soap office birthday do, which like all big parties on soaps, will end up with a big argument, a shock revelation and probably two people copping off who shouldn't be.)

"Don't miss our brill competition!"

This week, in another bumper-sized issue, it's EastEnders' turn, and we were delighted to have an audience with two Walford legends – Natalie Cassidy and Dean Gaffney, aka Sonia Fowler and Robbie Jackson – who return to Albert Square this week. They tell us all about spending over two decades both in and out of EastEnders.

Meanwhile, please don't miss our simply brilliant competition, which could see you getting a grand tour of behind-the-scenes treats – entering couldn't be simpler, so check out p67 for your big chance!

THIS WEEK!

Is Rhona being victimised? Or is it all in her head?

Is Pierce STALKING Rhona?

CONVINCED THAT HER VIOLENT EX IS BACK TO HAUNT HER, RHONA IS TERRIFIED...

Rhona's resolve finally breaks as she reveals what Pierce did to her...

Rhona is pushed to breaking point this week, after a string of sinister incidents leave her convinced that Pierce has broken into her home. This latest terror comes just as Rhona finally decides to put those around her straight about her estranged husband's true colours. So when it looks as though her dangerous ex has secretly returned to the village to continue making her life a living hell, Rhona is beside herself...

"Rhona is fragile and volatile – she doesn't really know what to do any more," sighs Zoe Henry, who plays her. "She wants to be independent and stay living at home with her little boy Leo, but she's frightened all the time. She's got Leo sleeping in her bed, and she's locking all the doors and windows. She's a woman living on the edge!"

THE TRUTH COMES OUT

At the start of the week, Rhona's distress finally pushes her to publicly reveal that Pierce raped her. With her nosy neighbours under the impression that her marriage simply hadn't worked out, Rhona can no longer keep the horrible truth to herself.

"People are talking about how nice Pierce is and how sorry they are that the marriage is over, and Rhona just can't listen to it any more," explains Zoe. "The huge pressure of keeping everything a secret while she's feeling so wretched has got to her."

"That morning Charity is round poking about for information on Pierce, and makes Rhona very paranoid. So by the time Rhona gets to the pub later and everyone's saying, 'I'm really sorry about your marriage, Pierce was such a nice guy', Rhona snaps."

While there's some relief having finally got this awful secret off her chest, Rhona flees the pub, unable to face the fallout from her revelation. But when she returns home, she begins to fear that Pierce has been lurking...

CONTINUED OVER ↘

...leaving Paddy and Marlon stunned and concerned

INSIDE SCOOP

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

"Even though Rhona doesn't wait for a reaction, there is an element of relief when she walks out of the Woolpack," says Zoe. "It's been a stressful day, so she goes home and runs a bath – then later notices that 'Pierce loves Rhona' has been scrawled on the bathroom mirror.

"It freaks her out, of course, because she assumes that Pierce has been in the house," continues the actress. "It pulls the rug out from under her all over again, and she's terrified. Just as she feels as if she can start to cope again, there's this constant chipping away, wearing her down bit by bit. She really struggles to manage her emotions."

Confiding in Paddy the following day, Rhona confesses her worst fear – that Pierce is back in Emmerdale and means to cause her harm. Equally concerned, protective Paddy drives to Pierce's office, leaving Rhona alone at home and feeling more vulnerable than ever.

"Pierce is an unknown entity as far as Rhona is concerned," admits Zoe. "She never thought he was capable of what he did in the first place, and not knowing what he might do next strikes fear in her. Paddy sees red when she tells him what's happened, but she doesn't know where he goes afterwards, so that scares her."

RUDE AWAKENING

Rhona's panic is doubled the following morning, when she comes downstairs to discover empty tablet packets on the table and the front door open – with little Leo nowhere to be seen...

"It's every parent's worst nightmare," sighs Zoe. "She's overslept, and Leo's not in his bed. She grabs the empty packets on the way through the kitchen and goes rushing outside – and there is Leo playing out on the lawn. Paddy and Marlon arrive just at that moment, and jump to all the wrong conclusions.

"It's an awful situation, and Rhona goes cold, wondering how she can explain what's happened. She even questions herself. It's messing with her head, and she wonders if she did take the tablets after all, and that's why she slept in."

With Pierce's wicked games still taking their toll, can Rhona convince her closest friends that she's not losing her mind?

Allison Jones

"Nobody knows what Pierce is capable of!"

If Pierce is the culprit behind the strange incidents taking place at Rhona's house, will he ever leave his poor victim alone? While we're in no doubt that Pierce is a dangerous man, we still can't guess how bad the already dreadful situation might get...

"I think that Pierce is capable of worse," insists Zoe. "I reckon that they're all in danger – not just Rhona, but Vanessa, Leo, Paddy and Marlon. What's clever is that Pierce is still a relatively new person on the scene. We've known him for almost a year and a half, yet nobody is aware of exactly what he's capable of."

With Jonathan Wrather, who plays Pierce, having recently revealed that his alter ego's mysterious mother Martha is set to make a return to the village, will she be able to stop her terrible son in his tracks – or is she only destined to make Rhona's life worse than ever?

"We know so little about Pierce's family life," sighs Zoe. "He could be capable of anything. His true colours are coming out, but he's a very complex character – and we still have no idea what to expect."

Eva discovers Aidan & Maria's affair!

Eva returns from her holidays - just as Aidan finishes up with Maria!

HER WORLD IS BLOWN APART...

Eva gets the worst welcome home in history this week, when she returns from France and finally realises that Aidan has been sleeping with Maria!

Newly engaged Eva has been on cloud nine since Aidan accepted her wacky Mexican proposal, and can't wait to become Mrs Connor. But when she gets home after visiting her mum, she learns Aidan has been cheating – and has to choose whether to confront him or play the long game...

"We won't reveal exactly how poor Eva discovers the affair, but it is brutal and totally unexpected!" teases our Corrie insider. "She's obviously devastated.

All this time she thought Aidan was the perfect man – but now she feels an idiot for pushing him and Maria into spending time together! Just when she was sure she'd found the one, he's ended up hurting her more than any man has before."

Prior to Eva's return to Weatherfield, Aidan makes a statement of commitment to Maria by crushing her secret phone, and whisking her off to his flat. However, Eva is keen to get home to her man as she thinks she might be pregnant!

Later, while emotional Eva is reeling from the news of Aidan's infidelity, she takes a pregnancy test with Leanne by her side. Her sister informs her she's not carrying Aidan's baby after all, but Eva's relief turns to confusion when she checks for herself, and realises that the test has come back positive! What would a baby mean for Eva and Aidan's future?

"All Eva has ever wanted is a family – but not with a man who's been having sex with her best friend!" roars our spy. "It would be tricky, because although Eva could never bring herself to stay with someone so disrespectful, she wouldn't want her baby growing up without a dad. And a child may cause Aidan to think twice about embarking on a new relationship with Maria."

The pressure is on as Eva takes a final pregnancy test, and ponders over how to make Aidan pay for what he's done.

Although she initially plans to have it out with deceitful Maria, she changes her mind when she sees little Liam is with her. But once she has time to think, Eva has an idea that will ensure her fiancé regrets the day he crossed her.

"You'll be surprised by the lengths she's prepared to go," gasps our sneak. "Eva isn't a nasty person, but she thinks it's only fair that Aidan gets his just deserts. No woman deserves to be treated this way, and Eva is determined to make him feel her pain..."

Aidan has no idea he's been rumbled, and as he sits Eva down to finally break up with her, he's blown away by his future wife's announcement! What does she have to tell him?

Eva pulled out all the stops for her proposal

Catherine Tyldesley reckons this is a new chapter for Eva...

As fierce as Eva becomes when she decides to make Aidan pay for his betrayal, the heartbroken bride-to-be is struggling to hold back the tears in his presence. But star Catherine Tyldesley is confident that her character will overcome her misery and rise from the ashes.

"She is her mother's daughter and Stella was a strong, feisty woman – that's what Coronation Street does best," praises the actress. "They write wonderful female characters. Growing up, Liz McDonald was always an important figure for me – I still love her now and the phenomenal outfits she wears! I think Eva will come out of this a lot tougher, and hopefully more independent."

Dot's terrifying tumble!

BUT SONIA IS BACK JUST IN TIME TO SAVE HER...

Robbie and Sonia fret over Dot's condition at the hospital

Poor Dot suffers a horrifying fall at home this week – and only her old friend Sonia can save her!

Badly injured and totally alone after tripping over her beloved kitty Dave, Dot is left lying on her kitchen floor for hours, desperate for someone to find her. And her saviour comes in the form of Sonia, who makes a return to the Square in the nick of time.

She's horrified to find her pal in such a dire predicament – and as frail Dot is rushed to hospital, Sonia proceeds to tear a strip off several guilty locals for their neglect...

"Nobody has been keeping an eye on Dot, and Sonia is on the warpath!" seethes our Walford spy. "Who knows how long she'd have been left there, cold and frightened, if Sonia hadn't turned up when she did? Dot might have convinced people that she's capable of looking after herself, but is it too much to ask that they check in on her more often?"

Dot is getting ready for Patrick's birthday party at the moment when she trips over Dave and crashes to the floor. With her nearest and dearest getting in the party mood, it's a while before anyone even notices she's missing. Unable to get up, Dot has no choice but to lie there, waiting for help – and it looks as if she's in luck when Patrick knocks on the door. However, after ailing Dot fails to make herself heard, Patrick returns to his party, oblivious to her plight.

Fortunately, Dot is in good hands once Sonia turns up. The qualified nurse knows just what to do – and with brother Robbie by her side, she accompanies Dot as the paramedics take her to hospital in an ambulance.

“Who knows how long frightened Dot might have been left there?”

Dot at least has two familiar faces alongside her as she's taken away by paramedics

ON THE MARKET!

Robbie is going up in the world...

"Poor Dot – it turns out that she needs surgery to fix her hip," reveals our mole. "Patrick is mortified that he didn't get to her first – and Sonia makes him feel even worse. But he's spared more of her indignation when Sonia gets distracted by something closer to home..."

After working away in Kettering for almost a year, Sonia recently made a brief return to help her daughter Bex, who was suffering at the hands of school bullies. And it seems that her little girl's troubles may now have brought Sonia home for good.

"Robbie gives the game away when he reminds Sonia that she still hasn't told Bex about wanting her to move in with them," shares our sneak. "Bex is living with Sonia's ex, Martin, and his wife Stacey, but Sonia is desperate to have her daughter home. She wants her family around her again."

As Sonia thrashes out the details of the tricky situation with Martin and Stacey, Bex overhears the commotion. With everything she's been through, will she be ready to pack up and move again?

Allison Jones

The Square stallholders are not impressed with their new boss – who's none other than one-time road sweeper Robbie! With Carmel's promotion, Robbie steps into her shoes as market enforcement officer – but how will his new regime go down?

"Robbie is a bit of a jobsworth, and he ruffles feathers!" admits returning star Dean Gaffney. "After his time living in India, he tries to get the stallholders chanting and doing meditation – but they look at him like they don't know what the hell he's on about!"

"There's a proper clash of personalities between him and Donna – she's not happy at this guy throwing his weight around. Typical Robbie! But as Sonia says at one point, 'You've gotta love him...'"

EASTENDERS

MAX'S PLAN TO BULLDOZE THE SQUARE!

It's the END of Walford
as we know it...

We've known that Max Branning has been up to no good since his return to Walford at Christmas. We also know that he's involved in a dark conspiracy which involves criminals, the local council, and the boss of a powerful property company.

Over the past few months, Inside Soap has kept a keen ear out for clues to Max's plan, and we're now ready to join the dots and predict his ultimate ambition. And it's nothing less than the total destruction of Albert Square!

SECRET PLOTTING

It's clear that Max cooked up this scheme while in prison, wrongly convicted for the murder of Lucy Beale. We've seen Max meet with his former cellmate, when Max promised that he was "capable of anything" and "ready to step things up a gear". This prison visit was engineered by the Chairman of Weyland & Co – the property firm that also employs Max's daughter Lauren. And we've watched Max meet in secret with the Chairman on a number of occasions, most recently in a disused warehouse, where we were given a sense of the true scale of Max's ambition...

"It all started with the laundrette..." he mused, revealing that this was the first Walford property to be claimed by Weyland & Co. Max also told the Chairman that he was "working on the Community Centre" and has "already secured the south side of Turpin Road". We presume Max is behind the low offer made to Ian Beale for the remains of Beale's Plaice, his former fish and chip shop on that street.

DEMOLITION!

So, like some life-size game of Monopoly, Max and the Chairman have bought up a big block of properties around the Square. But the Chairman still has the prize asset in his sights. "Get the pub!" he hissed at Max. "And fast!"

We can't see the Chairman running a boozer or doing service washes, so it's clearly the land itself that he wants – and the buildings won't be left standing for long...

Meanwhile, EastEnders bosses have teased "a massive summer storyline which will involve everyone in the Square". Also, we know that a new set is being built at the BBC studio in Elstree, with the old one scheduled for demolition. So, it's reasonable to assume that EastEnders will make the most of this change, and that we'll see Walford landmarks smashed to rubble by the Weyland & Co wrecking balls.

"Max has it all planned out," says our spy. "What greater revenge could he have on the community that sent him to prison for a crime he didn't commit, than to see the Square razed to the ground?"

In the FIRING LINE!

Who is Max's next target?

MICK & LINDA

The Queen Victoria pub is key to the Weyland & Co plan, and Max's new priority. He talked Shirley into selling the freehold of the pub, and helped to bring in new manager Fi Browning. Is Fi who the Chairman referred to as "our girl on the inside?" Or might a member of Mick's own family be secretly working against him, determined to force him out of business?

DENISE

Public-spirited Denise has recently applied for a job at Walford Council, determined to stop the shady sell-off of the Community Centre. This will put her at loggerheads with Carmel, who Max eased into a job with the planning authority. Is Denise putting herself in danger by standing against the power of Weyland & Co?

LAUREN

Lauren also works for Weyland & Co, but Max is keen to keep his dealings with the Chairman secret from both his daughter and their immediate boss, Josh Hemmings. So does Max see Josh as a threat? Or is he simply trying to keep Lauren out of the sights of his criminal conspirators?

JACK

Max has been quietly scheming against his own brother for some time. He brought Charlie Cotton back to Walford to claim baby Matthew, just to keep Jack feeling distracted and insecure. Surely this is explained by the fact that Jack is the owner of flats on Albert Square – and Max will soon make his play for this real estate?

PHIL

He's in Italy at the moment, but due to return to claim his position as the king of the Square soon. However, as Phil owns properties adjoining the Weyland purchases – the Arches and the R&R club, plus his own large house – will Phil sell up to Max and move overseas permanently? Or will he become the ultimate saviour of Walford?

Max has had many secret meetings with the Chairman...

...as well as a clandestine powwow with his ex-cellmate

BETHANY FIGHTS BACK!

She wants Nathan sent down for his crimes...

CORONATION STREET

Bethany's abuse at the hands of vile Nathan has made for difficult viewing – but the good news is that the twisted tanner is set to get his comeuppance, thanks to the immense courage of Bethany.

Chris Harper, who plays Nathan, and Lucy Fallon (aka Bethany) have revealed that the teenager finally finds the strength to stand up to her tormentor, which will hopefully result in him going to prison for a very long time.

"The bravery that it takes for someone who's been abused to testify against their abuser is not to be understated," insists Chris. "We're going to be watching Lucy – as Bethany – go on a massive journey. But I'm very pleased that Nathan won't be around for that."

"He's going down," continues the actor. "He deserves every minute of sentencing he gets."

And Lucy confirmed that she has already filmed the episode where brave Bethany gives her testimony against Nathan in court.

"I actually enjoyed filming it," she admitted. "I like the emotional scenes. Nathan needs to be locked up forever."

Viewers can see the court scenes play out this summer.

“I’ll prove you’re my daughter!”

PHELAN IS CERTAIN HIS SUSPICIONS ARE CORRECT...

Eileen fears that her hubby is playing away from home

Wicked builder Phelan has a new trick up his sleeve this week – as he tries to find proof that Nicola is his long-lost daughter!

Ever since Nicola came into his life while acting as young Seb’s social worker, Phelan has been struck by the remarkable resemblance she bears to an ex-girlfriend of his. But as he goes digging into Nicola’s background, what exactly will he discover?

“Imagine turning around and seeing the mirror image of somebody you fell in love with 30 years ago!” exclaims Connor McIntyre, who plays foul Phelan. “Pat’s spidey senses are tingling, and he is doing his Pat Phelan thing of nosying around for information. But however subtly you try to probe people, eventually they will become uncomfortable...”

As the week kicks off, Phelan is sneaking around behind wife Eileen’s back, pretending that he has an important business meeting to attend. But the truth is, he’s accompanying Nicola and Seb to a young offenders talk in Liverpool – and while he’s making out that he’s there for Seb’s benefit, it’s actually case worker Nicola that he wants to get closer to.

“This is Pat going down memory lane, and for the first time, we get some insight into what his backstory is and the environment he grew up in,” Connor tells us. “Nicola is the first person he has told about his past – he has a bond with her. We see a very different side to Pat as soon as he meets Nicola.

“He really likes this woman – she’s quite spirited, and very bright,” adds the actor. “She’s the image of someone who was the love of his life. Phelan doesn’t believe in accidents, but he is superstitious.”

However, what Pat has failed to do is confide in Eileen about any of his suspicions – so when she spots him getting into a car with Nicola, she immediately thinks that he has another woman on the go!

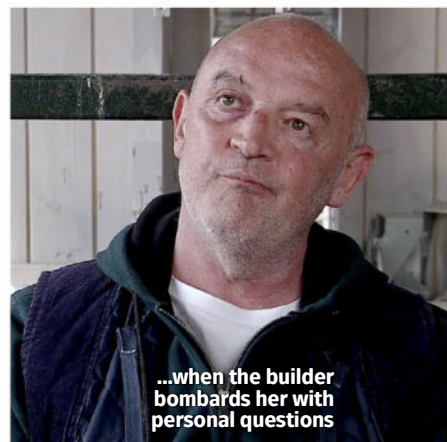

Meanwhile, Nicola starts to wonder why this man is asking so many questions about her past. And when she later

“We get to see other dimensions to this complex character”

Nicola begins to get a sinking 'Phelan'...

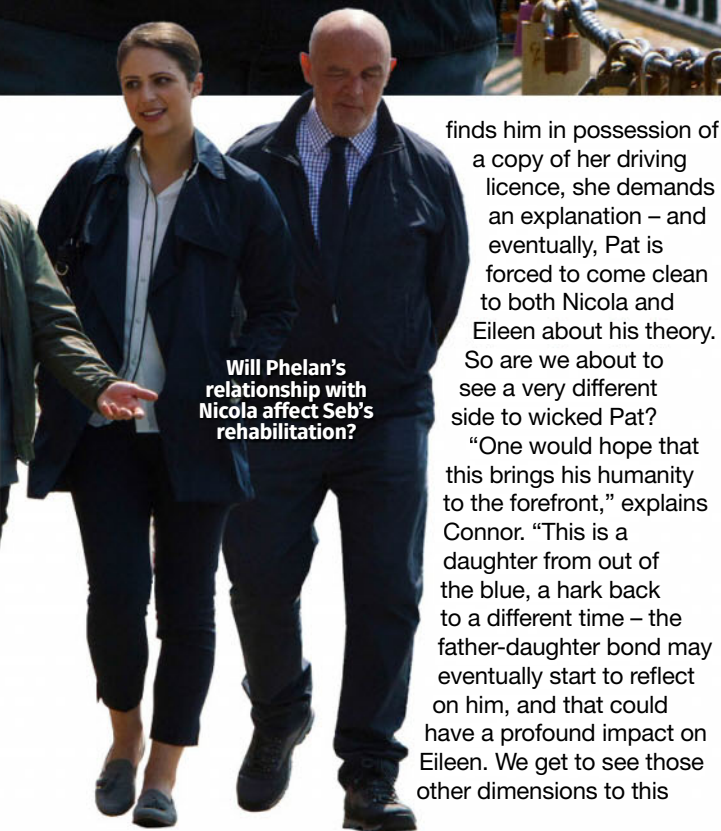

...when the builder bombards her with personal questions complex, and sometimes deeply unpleasant, character – and hopefully we may see that he's human after all."

Recent newspaper reports have confirmed that Nicola is indeed Phelan's girl – so how will she react to his bombshell? And will Eileen support her hubby if his daughter wants to get to know him?

Sarah Ellis

Will Phelan's relationship with Nicola affect Seb's rehabilitation?

finds him in possession of a copy of her driving licence, she demands an explanation – and eventually, Pat is forced to come clean to both Nicola and Eileen about his theory.

So are we about to see a very different side to wicked Pat? "One would hope that this brings his humanity to the forefront," explains Connor. "This is a daughter from out of the blue, a hark back to a different time – the father-daughter bond may eventually start to reflect on him, and that could have a profound impact on Eileen. We get to see those other dimensions to this

Connor had a blast filming in Liverpool...

Shooting for this week's episode took place in Liverpool, where Connor grew up. And he reveals that he enjoyed taking a trip down memory lane.

"It was nice to be home," he grins. "I was raised in that area, so it's where the script meets real life. I clearly remember the times on the docks, so how lovely that the story took us there."

As for Nicola, Connor reckons that the feisty character can give as good as she gets when it comes to dealing with her dastardly dad...

"There are moments when you see that this is Pat Phelan's daughter, it's in the genetic code," he tells us. "He's met his match, but he takes some pride in it – it's a case of, 'That's my girl!'"

GRAVE DANGER?

Ashley was a witness to Emma's terrible actions

Grief-stricken young Arthur accidentally stumbles on the truth about Emma's wickedness this week, when he watches an incriminating recording of his dad Ashley.

There's a video file of the sinister moment when Emma cruelly manipulated confused Ashley to exacerbate the symptoms of his dementia. She was horrified to realise that Ashley saw her moments after she'd pushed terrified fiancé James to his death – and in a bid to cover her tracks, she exploited his condition. But Emma doesn't know that Arthur possesses proof of her abhorrent antics...

"Poor Arthur is already in deep distress and finding it hard to cope with the death of his daddy," shares our Dales spy. "One of the few things that brings him comfort is watching videos Ashley made in the run-up to his death. Seeing his father smiling and the family together helps to ease his heartbreak – until he plays the recording where Emma shows her true colours.”

“Arthur is heartbroken to see his dad begging Emma to stop”

With Gabby in Australia, Arthur feels more vulnerable and needs all the security he can get. So when he sees mum Laurel taking painkillers, the lad panics as he wonders what would happen to him if she died as well. It's a stark reminder that the Thomases all have a long way to go to feel truly happy again.

Spending time watching his dad gives Arthur a break from his grief – but he isn't prepared for the spectacle he's about to see. When he watches a video that Ashley made in the final weeks of his life, he sees a scene almost too awful to comprehend.

"It's all quite confusing, but Arthur knows that what Emma did to his dad was wrong," says our snoop. "She's clearly tormenting him, and watching Ashley struggle is disturbing for Arthur. He's heartbroken to see his dad crying and begging Emma to stop, but not sure what to do about it."

Emma's big problem is that Arthur is a bright kid, and very close to his mum. The next time he and Emma meet, he's openly hostile to her – and eventually reveals what he's seen on the video footage. As the blood drains from Emma's face, how will she deal with this new situation? And is little Arthur now in deadly danger?

Mick entrusts Tina with the decorations...

...but has he made a bit of a mistake there?

Linda's home – and she's not happy!

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO HER PUB WHILE SHE'S BEEN AWAY?

EASTENDERS | BBC1 FRIDAY

Queen Vic landlady Linda finally returns to her beloved boozer this week – and the look on her face when she walks in says it all!

While Linda has been away in Watford caring for her poorly mum Elaine, a lot has gone on back home. And as Mrs Carter makes her homecoming in time for her 40th birthday bash bonanza, it looks as if her guilty hubby Mick will have a lot of explaining to do...

"Mick is delighted that Linda is finally home – but let's not forget that he was locking lips with Whitney just a few weeks ago!" our Walford snoop reminds us. "With Whit gone and Linda hopefully back for good, Mick has vowed to put his infidelity behind him and move forward. It's obvious that his heart still lies with Linda – but given how long these two have spent apart, there are bound to be a few cracks in their relationship."

As the week kicks off, Mick rallies the troops and lets them know that he wants nothing but the best for his beloved L – so he's planning to hold the biggest birthday party Albert Square has ever seen! The fact that he's throwing himself into the party planning with gusto raises suspicion from Shirley, who's well aware of what went on between him and Whitney. Nevertheless, she agrees to help him out – and even comes up with a genius idea of what he can get his missus as a present.

It's all systems go as Mick hands over some cash to Tina and puts her in charge of buying the decorations. But

Mick's heart lies with Linda – but there are bound to be cracks

Linda isn't happy when she meets meddling Fi judging by the look on Mick's face in our pictures, he was hoping for something a little classier than sparkly tiaras and pink feather boas! Luckily, it's all under control by the time Linda's big day rolls around – though Mick can't help but be on edge as he waits for the guest of honour to show up.

Just as the Carters think everything is set, new Vic boss Fi comes waltzing in! And when Linda arrives home to find another woman behind her bar, there's hell to pay...

"While Linda was complicit in signing over the freehold of the Vic, she had no idea that Fi now has her feet well and truly under the table!" says our sneak. "As you can imagine, that doesn't go down at all well with Linda – and when she finds out what other changes have been made while she's been away, she fuming!"

In true Carter fashion, Linda paints on a smile and gets behind the bar, eager to show that she's the true queen of the Vic. But once the punters are gone and it's just her and Mick, will Linda let rip?

Sarah Ellis

LINDA'S 'TO DO' LIST!

The queen of the Vic has some rather pressing matters to attend to...

RECLAIM HER MAN!

Linda has no idea her hubby has strayed. But in any case, we reckon she should drag Mick to the bedroom as soon as possible – to show him what he's been missing!

REDECORATE!

Mick will have some explaining to do when Linda sees what he's done to her parrot wallpaper! Frankly, it's time for a total revamp of the pub's decor – and L is just the woman for the job.

LIFT THE CURSE!

All of the dramas at the Vic started when Aunt Babe was banished and cursed her entire clan. If Linda has any sense, she'll straighten things out with Babe and have that curse lifted!

PAMPER HER POOCH!

Nobody in the Carter clan has been through as much as Lady Di, and she's looking a bit ruff. Linda should get the old girl down to the dog parlour for a paw-some pampering sesh!

Prince on the rampage!

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 THURSDAY

Simone falls foul of masked bandit Prince

Teen tearaway Prince McQueen sees a way to make some fast cash this week – by robbing the Lovedays!

After spotting Simone showing her husband Louis some rather fancy jewels, Prince plots to break into his teacher's house and steal them! But he doesn't bank on Simone returning home and catching him in the act...

"Simone coming back isn't part of Prince's plan," reveals Malique Thompson-

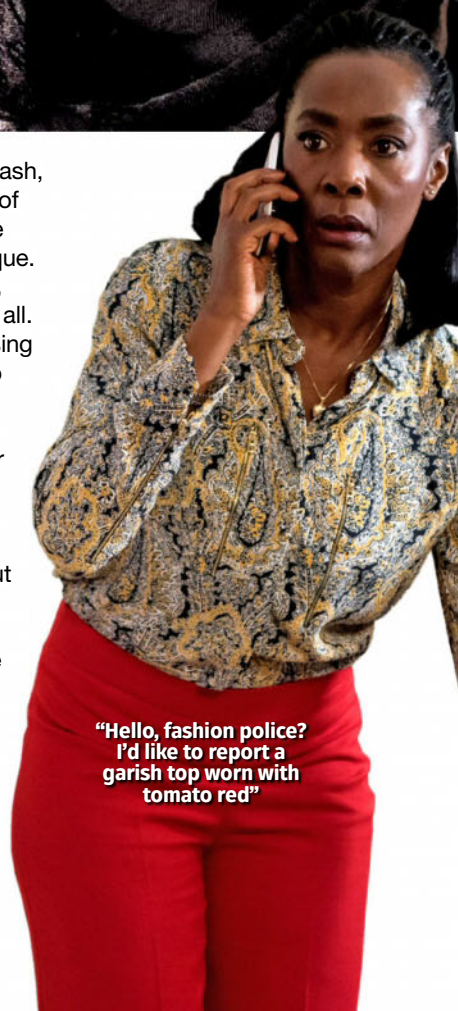

Dwyer, who plays him. "But she finds him rifling through her stuff, and obviously she's going to fight him. So they end up in a little scuffle and Prince pushes Simone over."

The last we saw of Prince, he was hotfooting it out of the village with his wicked dad Shane, intent on starting a new life far away from Hollyoaks. But as the week kicks off, Prince is back in Chester – and it turns out that life with his dear old pa wasn't all it was cracked up to be.

"They had hardly any cash, so they slept in the back of a van and ate out-of-date sandwiches," sighs Malique. "It's not really been great, and Prince isn't happy at all. Plus he's very much missing Lily, so he comes back to the village to see her."

We doubt that Lily will welcome back her former flame with open arms, given that he caused the car crash which left her with permanent scars! But Prince soon has bigger things to worry about after light-fingered Shane steals a wad of cash from Goldie – and the teenager takes it upon himself to put the money back before his mum realises it's missing.

"The money was meant to be for Prince's

Terese's shock diagnosis!

SHE'S STUNNED TO FIND OUT SHE HAS CANCER...

Prince needs some dishwashing liquid in addition to the jewels

There's devastating news for Terese this week, when Dr Karl delivers the heartbreaking news that the lump in her breast is cancerous. And for actress Rebekah Elmaloglou, who plays her, acting out this week's scenes was particularly emotional...

Terese's initial test results come back clear. What makes her think something is amiss?

She has a sense of relief at the time, as that was exactly the result she expected. However, after a few days, she still senses that something isn't quite right, and decides to get a second opinion. Plus she does a bit of digging into her family history and learns that her grandmother had breast cancer.

Can you talk us through the moment she finds out she has cancer?

Karl breaks the news to her and she is quite shocked – it's all a bit of a blur. There are a lot of medical terms and details that she has to try to digest all at once. It's pretty overwhelming.

What was that scene like for you to film?

I'm quite good at separating my work life from real life – but because my mother has just gone through breast cancer, those emotions are still quite raw. Having to say the words "I have cancer" was quite confronting.

Terese hides the news of her cancer from her family. Do you think she is doing the right thing?

I can understand why some people keep these things to themselves, because dealing with the reactions from others can be very difficult. However, having gone through this situation with my mum, I know you need the love and support of your family. The treatment can be very debilitating, and you really don't want to do it on your own.

What was your initial reaction when you found out about Terese's storyline?

I was completely open to it, because I think the message about following up when you're not 100 per cent comfortable with a diagnosis is so important. Listen to your body. Terese is a tough cookie and has a lot of support – the road may not be easy, but I'm feeling confident for her.

university fund," Malique tells us. "Prince wants to find a way of replacing the cash, which is why he robs the Lovedays. He sets up a revision session with Louis, and when Louis leaves the room, Prince steals his keys. He lets himself into the flat and gets the jewellery – but then Simone comes back."

We'll have to wait and see whether Prince will get away with his ill-advised heist – but Malique assures us that his alter ego is a big softie at heart.

"He doesn't mean to be so naughty!" he insists. "Prince doesn't think. A lot of the time he's trying to do good – but he's really just a bit of an idiot!"

Is Debbie still in love with Ross?

EMOTIONS RUN DANGEROUSLY HIGH BETWEEN THE EX-COUPLE...

Ice queen Debbie is consumed by jealousy this week – as she tries to fight her feelings for her ex-boyfriend Ross.

Ever since she returned from France, Debbie has made a deliberate effort to steer clear of Emmerdale village's baddest boy, knowing that he's a toxic person to have in her life. The problem is that while Debbie's head tells her to stay away, her heart says otherwise. So, when the pair are thrown together again through work, the Dingle dame struggles to maintain a grip on her emotions...

DRIVING THEM WILD

Now Debbie and Rebecca are launching their new chauffeur business, they need a sexy driver to wow their clients. Ross might have some ugly personality traits, but he's easy on the eye – and it's not long before he's signed up to get behind the wheel. However, working so closely together is a problem for Debbie, especially when she starts to get wound up by the personal service that Ross is giving her customers.

"Ross is a terrible flirt – but that's just all part of the job," laughs our Emmerdale insider. "Debbie has insisted he keep things professional, but when has that ever stopped Ross? She's so furious to witness him swapping numbers with one of the ladies – and it's clear that it's not just because he's blurring the lines of his job, but also because she has a case of the green-eyed monster!"

"Debbie has a case of the green-eyed monster!"

A NUMBERS GAME

Inevitably, Debbie can't contain her anger and snaps at her sly ex. However, she's left red-faced when Ross reveals that the reason he was exchanging phone numbers was part of his marketing drive to boost the business, not to line up dates. But seeing Debbie so rattled is good news for Ross, because it tells him she still cares. Given that he's never really fallen out of love with her, surely there's a chance for a reconciliation?

"Debbie has to admit that Ross is still the man she wants," reckons our source. "It's so obvious that it has become embarrassing. The issue is that Ross is very free with his affections. It's Debbie he loves, but that doesn't mean he'll deprive other women of enjoying what he has to offer while she continues to keep him at arm's length."

When she heads over to apologise for biting his head off, Debbie has resolved to admit that she wants Ross back. But as she begins to explain her feelings, the client Ross was swapping phone numbers with emerges wearing not much more than a smile! Debbie is furious that she allowed herself to get pulled back in – but have Ross' flirty ways given Debbie the push she needs to walk away?

Yolande & Patrick reunited!

MIGHT THEIR OLD SPARK BE REKINDLED?

There's a shock for birthday boy Patrick this week – when ex-wife Yolande makes a surprise return to Walford.

It's been nine years since Yolande decided to leave London to start a new life in Birmingham without Patrick. Although they had some rocky times in their marriage – not least when Patrick had a steamy affair with the late, great Pat Butcher – the Truemans have remained on good terms. So, as Yolande arrives in Albert Square, Patrick is happy to see her, but wonders why she's in the area on his special day.

It turns out Yolande hasn't come to wish her old flame a happy birthday in person. Instead, she's here on official Minute Mart duty. It's been a turbulent time for the Walford shop, especially after the bad press brought to it by Denise, and the decision to fire her from her post. Yolande had hoped that with new recruit Derek in place, the store could get back to business as usual – but there's a reason why she needs to come and conduct a face-to-face meeting with him.

Derek has been diligent in getting to grips with his new job, and he's enjoying having a role within the community while also earning some money. However, Yolande is here to tell him there has been a worrying revelation at head office, so she needs answers – and after a tough talk with Derek, Yolande pops into the Vic to toast

Patrick's birthday. Could she be interested in getting back with her ex?

Robert's past catches up with him!

WHO IS HIS DODGY MATE, RICH?

Big trouble lies ahead for Robert this week, when a blast from the past arrives to threaten his future.

Robert can't believe it after one of his old acquaintances, dodgy character Rich, walks into the Bistro without warning. It's not a welcome surprise as Rich is someone who Robert wants to keep far away from his new life – and especially from girlfriend Michelle. But it looks as though the pressured chef might not have a choice when Rich makes it clear that he means business.

"Nick's decision to leave Weatherfield and sell his share of the Bistro is already giving Robert a headache – and Rich turning up has made things even worse!" wails our Corrie spy. "Michelle wants to use her divorce money to buy into the restaurant, but Robert fears it's a big step for them as a new couple. Nick's exit means he needs to act fast, though, so he has to make a decision."

The arrival of Rich puts more pressure on Robert, and the very next day he's stunned to find him in deep conversation with Michelle. When they get the chance to speak alone, Rich tells Robert that he fully intends to use the Bistro as a way to launder the money he's making from selling drugs.

It's a horrifying prospect, and Robert is quick to insist there is no way Rich will get what he wants from him. But as the pair lock horns, Rich points out that Robert has a lovely life on the Street with Michelle, and that he wouldn't want her to know the truth about her other half.

It seems Rich has serious dirt on Robert, and could tell Michelle things that would ruin their relationship. So faced with losing the woman he loves and the reputation that he's worked hard to build in Weatherfield, will Robert do the unthinkable and agree to Rich's demands?

Kate White

There's a shock for Michelle this week, as she bumps into her old flame, Will.

Michelle got dangerously close to childhood beau Will when her then-hubby Steve was in Spain for months while recovering from depression. Steve's neglect of Michelle drove her to seek comfort in Will, who destroyed his engagement by declaring his love for her and ditching his bride-to-be. In the end, Michelle confessed to Steve that she'd kissed Will and was tempted to bed him, and he forgave her. Little did they know that there'd soon be a marriage-ending bunk-up between Steve and Leanne!

CASE OF THE EX!

When Will sees Michelle, he invites her to join him for a catch-up just as friends. Michelle agrees and lets him know what's been going on in her world, including her divorce from Steve and the tragedy of losing Ruairi. Will is stunned to hear her marriage is over and Steve's had a baby with someone else.

But as Michelle tells him she's with Robert and in love, Will says he's gutted he missed out. Should Robert worry about losing Michelle to Will?

Leave Sinead alone!

Chesney lays down the law to Daniel...

CORONATION STREET
ITV FRIDAY

Chesney confronts love rival Daniel this week, in the hope of winning back his ex Sinead. Concerned that Daniel's collapse following his drugs overdose will prompt Sinead to run back to his side, Ches can't help but intervene.

When the bloodied book that proved Daniel attacked

Ken was first found, Chesney was keen to take the evidence to the police. Sinead convinced him not to, but went on to shop Daniel herself – and now jealous Ches won't allow his true love to fall back into Daniel's arms.

Instead, he's determined to win back his woman – and refuses to let his nemesis get in the way. Paying the struggling Barlow a visit, Chesney warns Daniel that if the fella tries to get back with Sinead, then he won't think twice about taking the damning evidence to the cops.

But will Chesney's threats persuade Daniel to steer clear?

The former mayor dropped the bombshell on Toadie shortly before the beginning of her court hearing – and following a positive outcome, with Sonya narrowly escaping prison, the pair are riding high.

But as they return home, Toadie is disappointed when Sonya pushes him away once again, and suggests that they go back to communicating via email. Will the Rebecchis ever fix their fractured marriage?

Milo hovers in!

HOLLYOAKS
Channel 4 TUESDAY

There's a new face in Hollyoaks this week – but while Milo seems like a nice guy on the surface, he's hiding a dark secret!

Milo turns up in the village on his hoverboard, bumping into Cindy as he wheels his way through the local area. And getting on the wrong side of her doesn't do him any favours, as he's soon going head-to-head with DS Armstrong to rent out Cindy's spare room.

Whether he'll win over his potential new landlady remains to be seen. But Nathan Morris, who plays Milo, hopes viewers will enjoy his alter ego's antics.

"I hope people react well to Milo," he tells us. "He tries his best to be nice – though he often makes matters worse!"

JILTED JENNY

I understand that Corrie's Johnny thought that he was being noble in letting Jenny go, but he definitely should have been honest about his diagnosis and given her the final say in their relationship. It was very sad to see such a beautiful dress be cut up into shreds!

👍 | Pat, Brighton

FINN-TASTIC

Emmerdale's Finn has been brilliant since he discovered the weed farm. He's usually so uptight, so it's been great seeing him get up to some mischief – and his impression of a copper was a thing of beauty! Wouldn't it be funny if he eventually stole Ross' crown as the baddest Barton brother?

👍 | Shelley

You won't be laughing when the drug dealers catch up with him...

NO LIFE SENTENCE

I'm very angry with Nancy in Hollyoaks. I was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis in 2010 and have never thought about ending up in a wheelchair or taking my own life. I take each day as it comes, and she certainly shouldn't speak as if MS means the end of everything as we know it!

High praise indeed for young Finn!

👍 | Alison

There's no way Darren is going to let Nancy give up!

Delighted Paige broke the record for biggest baby born

GABE MISTAKE

Are we supposed to believe that Paige's son, Gabriel, in Neighbours is a newborn? He's huge! The baby must be at least six months old, and yet the character is only meant to be a couple of weeks old. I've heard of soaps ageing the kids to fit in with certain storylines, but this is just ridiculous!

👍 | Emma

BACK OFF, BREN!

I wish Doctors would stop bringing back Ayesha's troubled mother, Bren. Just as the poor girl lands on her feet again and manages to get her life in order, her mum turns up!

👍 | Darren, Stoke-on-Trent
Bren has certainly put her daughter to the test...

Louise just wanted Bex to stop singing to her

FOREVER FRIENDS

Poor Louise in EastEnders – she was so drunk at her party, she can't even trust her own memory! And yet again, it's Alex and Madison fuelling the fire, while the lovely Bex is the one to offer support. It's about time Louise realised that Bex is the only friend she needs!

🗨️ | Debbie, Sheffield

I couldn't believe how cool Martin was when he thought Bex had bought the pregnancy test!

WEDDING WOES

I love Eva in Coronation Street, but I can't believe how deluded she is about Aidan.

She hasn't exactly been subtle about wanting to get married, so surely the fact he hasn't got down on one knee himself shows that his heart isn't in it! I feel that she's so desperate for a happy ending that she just can't see the wood for the trees.

🗨️ | Carrie

She's about to get a harsh reality check – turn to p8 now!

DALES DIVA

Oh, how I love Emmerdale's Diane. She's so self-assured that she didn't even bat an eyelid when Doug was behaving suspiciously with Lydia, and now she's leaving him at home while she goes on a cruise! I do think she loves Doug, but it's refreshing that she's put herself first. What a woman!

🗨️ | Jeremy, Cambridge

I love Doug and Diane – but I do miss having her behind the bar of the Woolpack!

SCOTT'S SUICIDE SHOCKER

Smiley Scott is the biggest joker in the village – which made it all the more shocking when his friends and family watched the devastating video diary that detailed the depths of his anguish...

I've been in tears over the latest Hollyoaks episodes! Scott has always been portrayed as a bit of a joke, but this has all built up to an incredibly moving storyline. Beautiful acting by Ross Adams, who's shown a completely different side to the character.

🗨️ | Louise

Some of my friends thought that Scott's suicide attempt seemed a bit rushed, but I think this story has been developing since we met him! He's always been picked on and isolated, but clearly never felt like anyone cared enough to hear how he really feels.

🗨️ | Gina, Norfolk

We all know homophobia exists, but there's so much conflict within the gay community, too! Kyle was a prime example of one of the 'straight-acting gay guys' that kicked Scott to the kerb. It's no wonder he's struggled to find his place in the world.

🗨️ | Damien

Scott's ordeal also revealed hidden truths about some other characters...

Ryan's attack on Scott was totally uncalled for, especially when Scott wouldn't hurt a fly. I understand why Ryan wants to keep his fling with Kyle a secret, but there's no excuse for being such a bully.

🗨️ | Kiera, Durham

Mac's disgusting comment towards Scott was totally out of character! We know Mac is vile, but it's strange that he'd be so spiteful to a punter.

🗨️ | Liam

Could his homophobia be the reason he abused James?

A NEW LEAF

The curtains in Leyla and Vanessa's living room caught my eye when I was watching a recent Emmerdale episode. They're white with green leaves on and I'd love to get my hands on the same set. Where are they from?

Q | Julia, Kent

The 'Regan Green Lined Eyelet Curtains' are from Dunelm, and prices start from £25.

YOUR TRICKIEST SOAP QUERIES ANSWERED...

THREE TIMES A LADY!

When Rita was giving Johnny a good telling-off in Coronation Street, she mentioned that she's been married three times! Could you tell me more about all her ex-husbands, please?

Q | Lynette, Barnsley
Rita's first husband was builder Len Fairclough, who she married in 1977. He died in a road accident in 1983, and Rita then discovered he'd been having an affair. In 1992, she married Ted Sullivan, who also died after succumbing to a terminal brain tumour. Her final husband was Dennis Tanner in 2012, who ended up ditching her for rival Gloria Price!

A woman SCORNED!

Eva is out for revenge – and real-life alter ego Catherine Tyldesley is raring to get started...

When Inside Soap last spoke to Catherine Tyldesley, she was as outraged as we were at Aidan's infidelity – and, like us, eagerly waiting for poor Eva to discover that her Prince Charming is a slimy toad in disguise! So it's no surprise that the 33-year-old actress is desperate to tell us all about how her character plans to get her own back on her cheating boyfriend. When we join Catherine for a chat on set in the Bistro, she laughs as she tells us about all the Corrie fans warning her of Aidan's misdemeanours – and the sparkle in her eye convinces us that her on-screen fella is in for a very nasty surprise.

"I was so scared to turn the pages of the script – I couldn't believe what Eva will be doing!" she gasps. "I honestly couldn't put the script down. This will be way better than her having it out with Aidan and Maria there and then."

After such a rave review, we can't wait to see what the feisty lass has in store! And although smiling Cath keeps her lips sealed when it comes to the details, she reveals enough for us to understand that Aidan won't know what's hit him...

Bricking it: And if these two aren't, they should be!

It sounds as if Eva won't be pulling any punches when it comes to taking down Aidan...

Absolutely not – she very much reverts back to Eva the diva! Which is great, because that's what she was like when I first joined Coronation Street. It's nice to see the return of her feisty side.

What can you tell us about her plan?

Well, it's quite extreme – I don't think I could ever do anything like this! If Eva was my mate, I'd advise her to walk away and show Aidan what he's missing, because this has 'backfire' written all over it. But basically, she wants to see him with nothing, and won't stop until he's hurting as much as she is.

"Basically, Eva won't stop until Aidan is hurting as much as she is!"

That sounds sinister! Do you have any sympathy for Aidan or Maria?

No, absolutely not! I think Aidan does love Eva, but he also loves Maria, so he's just having his cake and eating it as well. For me personally, I think if you want to play the field, that's fair enough – but if you're going to commit, then commit! As for Maria, you just don't do that to your friends, do you?

Is it easy for you to channel the anger that Eva must be feeling?

The wonderful thing about playing Eva is that I've been on such a journey. You don't usually get that with most acting jobs. I've seen her grow up, and been part of everything she's been through, so I can genuinely feel what she's feeling when I'm reading the scripts. Plus, the writing is so brilliant, so everything I need is there on paper.

Does Eva's revenge mean that Shayne Ward, aka Aidan, and Samia

How do you solve a problem like Maria? The Eva way, apparently!

Longchambon (Maria) are in for a rough ride in their scenes?

It's awful because we're all such good friends. I'm constantly grabbing hold of them after takes and saying, "I'm really sorry, I love you!" Luckily we're all dead comfortable around each other and love working together.

Eva is a strong part of the Street's Girl Power movement, but no Weatherfield woman is more important to her than her sister – and she's been helping Leanne deal with her break-up with Nick. Leanne will be happy to return the favour as Eva deals with her own disaster, and Catherine is delighted to see the family coming together for a good cause...

Have you enjoyed having Jane Danson, aka Leanne, on this story?

Yes! It's brilliant working with Jane and having this sister dynamic – and now we've got Georgia [Taylor, who plays Toyah] too. I love the scenes we all do together where Leanne has her mother hat on and is telling Eva to calm down, while Toyah is rolling her eyes. They've established such lovely relationships, despite how different they all are.

In the past, Eva would probably have run to her mum with her problems. Would you like to see Stella come back to the cobbles one day?

Oh, I'd love that! I had so much fun working with Michelle [Collins, aka Stella] – and Sue Johnston [who played Eva's nan, Gloria] too. I've always thought about Coronation Street bringing Eva's father in one day as well. He walked out when she was three, and that's a big reason for her trust issues.

And baby makes three: Cath with hubby Tom and their son Alfie

Does Eva recruit anyone else?

Yes, Adam becomes her accomplice! He really dislikes Aidan, so when he finds out what Eva is up to, he tells her they could get more out of him by working together than she would on her own. I've enjoyed working with Sam [Robertson, who plays Adam] because we hadn't had many scenes together before. You predominantly work closely with three or four different people in a love triangle storyline, so it's nice to interact with someone new!

Warm-hearted Eva has spent her whole life dreaming about starting a family, but this really is the worst week to find out that she might be pregnant (see p8)! Catherine's own pregnancy also came as a surprise, as she found out she was expecting son Alfie – who's now two – just four months into her relationship with Tom Pitfield, whom she married in May last year. So while the actress is giving her all to the drama playing out on screen, she's happy to leave the show behind and spend time with her family...

Stella good: Catherine hopes for a return for Eva's mum

How does Eva's pregnancy shock compare with when you learned you were expecting Alfie in real life?

Me and Tom were shocked, but absolutely over the moon and couldn't wait! On the other hand, Eva's situation makes Aidan's affair 10 times worse. All she's ever wanted is to settle down, but now that she's discovered he's

Sister fact: Leanne is there to offer Eva support and wisdom cheating, a baby makes it even more heartbreaking. So Eva feels the fear of possibly ending up a single mum.

You must be so busy working on Corrie and being a mum as well.

When I had Alfie, I said I'd find a balance – but balance doesn't exist! I adore my job and I love being a mum, so I'm constantly striving to meet somewhere in the middle. Luckily, I've got an amazing support network at work, and my family and friends are absolutely brilliant, too. I live 10 minutes away from the Corrie studio, so I can nip home at lunch if I really need a squidge!

Shayne and Samia both have young children – Shayne is dad to six-month-old daughter Willow, while Samia has a seven-year-old called Freya and Yves, who's almost two. Are kids something you all bond over while on set?

Oh yeah, it's great! We hang out together away from the set when we can, and there's a lot of coffee going on. We spend virtually the whole time talking about nappies...

Laura Heffernan

BACK in business!

Could Eva end up taking over Underworld?

Underworld is the real love of Aidan's life, and we reckon the worst thing Eva could do would be to steal the place from under his nose. Does Catherine have faith in her alter ego as a businesswoman?

"I think she'd make a pig's ear of it!" laughs the actress. "She'd probably have some great ideas, and I could see it going down the Ann Summers route. But Eva would need a bit of help taking Underworld in that direction!"

We know Eva is no stranger to sexy lingerie, given the PVC ensemble she slipped into recently.

"I have a lot of say over what Eva wears, but with that outfit, I did stop and think 'What have I done?'" cringes Catherine. "I got nervous, but Shayne was great – he said he wouldn't look until we went for the take! I just hope my dad wasn't watching it..."

A full-page photograph of actress Nadine Mulherrin. She is wearing a white, backless lace dress and has her dark hair styled in a long braid. She is looking over her shoulder towards the camera with a slight smile. The background is dark with vertical red lines and a shimmering, sequined border on the right side.

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 TUESDAY

“Cleo’s a good girl – but still a McQueen at heart!”

NADINE MULKERRIN JOINS THE DARK SIDE
AS HER ALTER EGO GOES TO EXTREME LENGTHS TO PROTECT JOEL...

Given her poor track record with romance, put-upon Cleo McQueen deserves a little bit of luck in love.

Following Cleo's latest failed relationship, this time with Joel, minxy Mercedes advises her to play the field for a while – but what are actress Nadine Mulkerrin's thoughts on that?

"I don't think Cleo could ever fill Mercy's shoes!" she laughs. "I'm so awkward and cringey, so I'd struggle if I ever had to be sexy on screen. Kissing scenes can be a bit uncomfortable because there are always about 20 crew and cast members watching you at it! But you've just got to go for it – and Rory [Douglas-Speed, who plays Joel] is cute, so that makes it easier."

What could have been a beautiful romance for Cleo imploded when priest Joel made a deal with God to return to the Church if Cleo's life was spared after their horrific motorbike crash. But in spite of the obstacles they face, could Joel still be the one for Cleo?

"Yeah, I think he's the best guy she's had yet," reckons 23-year-old Nadine. "Joel's a good person, so I'm rooting for Cleo and Joel all the way! But she always goes for the wrong men – this one's a priest! It's never going to be smooth sailing is it?"

"Rory and I are really good friends too," she continues. "We recently went to Pembrokeshire with Jess [Ellis, aka Tegan] and Daisy [Wood-Davis, who plays Kim] for a random bank holiday getaway. It was amazing. Although it was supposed to be a chilled-out trip, everything got a bit out of hand!"

Joel may be the latest man to break her heart, but Cleo's feelings for him haven't disappeared, and she's ready to fight his corner when meddling

Cleo always goes for the wrong men – this one's a priest!

Shane starts making threats against him. Determined to stop Shane from grassing up Joel to Warren for his part in Katy Fox's death, Cleo agrees to do anything to protect her beloved – and we do mean anything...

"She's told by Shane to rob a bank," gasps Nadine. "Cleo is a good girl, but I guess she's a McQueen at heart!"

Cleo soon finds herself way out of her depth, and her involvement with callous Shane has potentially grave consequences. But whatever takes place, Nadine is prepared to give it her all – as she proved while filming the tense scenes following the spectacular car crash recently.

"I remember I was literally rolling round in the mud so I could get dirt on my face and real twigs in my hair," she chuckles.

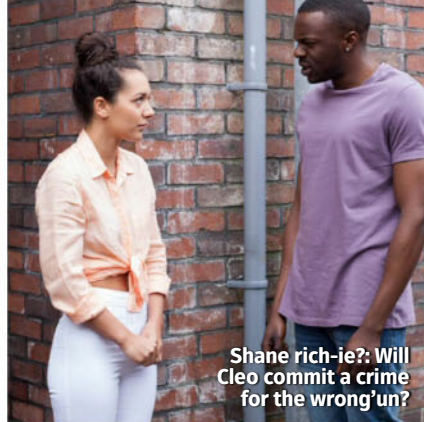

"All these scenes were shot at night and they were really cool to do. But at one point they were taking a shot from above, so it was just me on my own in the middle of a bush, and a bat flew across me. I was screaming!"

Nadine laments that her character must have the worst luck in the history of Hollyoaks, and we're tempted to agree with her. Her fellow McQueens are no strangers to tragedy, but characters such as Myra and Mercedes are still allowed to have a giggle from time to time. Would Nadine enjoy crying some tears of laughter for a change?

"Don't get me wrong, I love all the drama," muses the star, who was at the heart of the show's highly acclaimed 'No More Secrets' child sex abuse story. "I've been really lucky with the plots I've been given, like all the heroin stuff. But sometimes it's nice to have some light relief, too, and I'd quite like to do a bit more comedy."

"Having said that, I've read some scripts recently where so far it does seem like Cleo is having a good time," continues Nadine. "So I'm looking forward to doing those scenes!"

Laura Heffernan

Shane rich-ie?: Will Cleo commit a crime for the wrong'un?

Nadine's FAMOUS FIVE

The star gives us the pick of her Chester co-stars...

1 "Nick Pickard [Tony] is one of the funniest people on the show. He's absolutely hilarious, and probably the clumsiest guy I've ever met. I'm always seeing him fall over!"

2 "The smartest person in the cast is Richard Linnell [Alfie]. Honestly, he's like a walking book of knowledge – it's brilliant! I'm pretty sure he knows how to solve a Rubik's cube as well."

3 "I love going on a night out with Jess Ellis. She's absolutely crackers!

Jess turns up on the dance floor wherever you go, and I always have a great time when I'm with her."

4 "Jennifer Metcalfe [Mercedes] is the person I'd most likely turn to for advice.

She's taken on a big sister role. I'm really missing her, because she's off on maternity leave now."

5 "I miss all my family – Zöe Lucker [Reenie], Kai Owen [Pete] and Twinnie-Lee Moore [Porsche]. But most of all I miss Sarah George [Celine]. She texted me just the other day."

Thou shalt not snog: Why does Cleo's fella have to love a higher power?

HOLBY CITY | BBC1 TUESDAY

“Donna’s come back HOME!”

AS THE POPULAR NURSE
RETURNS TO HOLBY,
JAYE JACOBS FEELS AS THOUGH SHE’S NEVER BEEN AWAY...

The last time we saw Donna Jackson, she was moving to Liverpool to be with her boyfriend, fellow nurse Kieran Callaghan, who had undergone a leg amputation. But Donna makes a welcome return to Holby this week – with Jaye Jacobs, who plays her, reprising the role after a six-year break. And while Jaye is sad to reveal that Donna and Kieran are no longer together – “I was hoping they were living happily ever after!” – she couldn’t be more excited to be back in her scrubs...

You certainly sound happy to be back at Holby City, Jaye...

I am – it’s really great! After about a day it felt like I’d never been away, because things haven’t changed that much since I was last here. I’ve always loved the show, which is why I stayed so long at Holby last time – so I’m really enjoying it.

Has Donna changed much since the last time we saw her?

She’s at a different stage of her life now, and has a bit more life experience behind her. She still has her adopted daughter Mia, plus another little girl from her most recent relationship, so she’s more child-focused. And she remains a good nurse, although she’s trying a bit too hard when she first comes back, so seems quite over-confident...

Does that rub up any of her new colleagues the wrong way?

Yes – Fletcher! They have a little clash, nothing huge. They’re not about to become big enemies or anything. Me and Alex Walkinshaw, who plays Fletcher, worked together on Waterloo Road, and our characters were married in that – so someone has obviously decided that we won’t get on in Holby City! But it’s so lovely to work with Alex again, he’s such a great soul to have around on set.

What has brought Donna back to Holby City Hospital?

She’s in a situation where she needs to earn some money – she’s married to a footballer now, but he’s cut off her cash because their relationship isn’t going well. She needs to look after herself and her children, so she’s come back home to Holby.

It’s safe to say Donna won’t disappoint in terms of her love life!

You’ve become a mum yourself since you were last on the show – how is it combining Holby with parenthood?

I was very fortunate that I was able to be an at-home mum, which was brilliant. My daughter is three-and-a-half now, and her social life is way more interesting than

In the Ric of time:
Donna is back working with her old colleague

Donna wing and a prayer: Can she make it work back at Holby?

mine! But that's meant it was feasible for me to entertain the idea of a long-running drama again – and we're making it work so far.

There's been a real buzz about Donna's return, and since she was involved in several controversial romances last time, might there be more in store?

We've not filmed any yet, but it's heading that way, I think... It's safe to say that Donna won't disappoint in terms of her love life!

The sad farewell!

James Stewart on Justin's plans to leave...

Phoebe is off to the States this week to fulfil her musical dreams – but will her fiancé Justin be going with her? According to actor James Stewart, his alter ego is struggling with the thought of leaving his daughter Ava behind...

"Justin's relationship with Ava is really starting to blossom," explains the star. "She's finally called him 'dad', which strikes a chord with Justin that he's never felt before. Having his daughter back in his life means everything to him."

But while Justin's heart is breaking at the prospect of being apart from Ava, Phoebe is deliriously happy about the adventure that lies ahead – so the couple's farewell party is bittersweet.

"It's one of those great Home and Away moments where several storylines intertwine," reveals James. "It's full of speeches, tears, hellos and goodbyes, topped off with a drink and a song. There's also a precious moment that viewers will have to watch to find out about!"

During the celebrations, Justin gets up in front of his loved ones to perform an emotional ballad for his little girl. And James tells us that he loved exercising his vocal chords on screen.

"I grew up in Queensland, so singing round beach fires at night was a way of life," he shares. "A guitar and a surfboard were a big part of my upbringing – and I think a song can sometimes do so much more than a speech."

Just as Justin is pouring his heart out on stage, Phoebe realises that she can't take him so far away from his little girl...

"By the time Phoebe says she's going without him, Justin has come to terms with it in his heart," sighs James. "He doesn't want to anchor her – so he sets her free."

“Emma’s a nice person really – she’s just lost her way!”

AS THE DALES’ MOST DANGEROUS WOMAN SETS HER SIGHTS ON LITTLE ARTHUR, GILLIAN KEARNEY SAYS HER ALTER EGO MEANS WELL...

Emma Barton is one of those characters who puts you on edge every time she appears on screen. Beneath her buttoned-up cardigan beats a dark heart, and behind her religious devotion lies a soul tormented by evil deeds – including blackmail and murder. Emma is so bitter, and so brittle, it’s impossible to predict when she’s going to snap next. That’s why you should prepare to feel your pulse quicken this week, as Emma discovers that young Arthur Thomas may have rumbled her deepest, darkest secret...

“Emma realises that she’s in trouble,” warns Gillian Kearney, who plays the Dales’ ticking time bomb. “She’s been getting close to Laurel through the church, and she’s at the Thomas house for innocent reasons. But Arthur is freaked out by her presence – and when he explains that he’s seen the video of her and Ashley, she’s very troubled and attempts to explain it away.”

This moment has been a long time coming, with viewers waiting for the incriminating tape to come back into play. Keeping Arthur quiet isn’t going to be easy, but Emma is willing to do what it takes. However, her actions are a cruel blow to the Thomas family, who are keeping the memory of their beloved Ashley alive through those treasured films.

“Emma does what she has to do!” shares Gillian. “She obviously would never think about hurting Arthur, but she feels dreadful about the fact that she knows the evidence has to be destroyed. It must never be seen by Laurel or anyone else in the village.”

Arthur chance: The odds are against Emma now the lad has seen the tapes

Stealing the tapes of Ashley is a despicable thing to do, though it does serve one other important function. It makes Emma confront the horror of who she has become – a woman who killed her husband, and then manipulated a desperately ill man to keep him quiet.

“I had to watch the scene back on the day that we filmed this, and I was horrified!” recalls Gillian. “I was able to use that to show that

Emma is shaking her head at herself. When that happened, Emma was in the depths of despair and grief. James had only been dead a matter of days, and she was round there trying to confuse and befuddle Ashley, so it’s doubly excruciating for her. She’s devastated, and I wanted to show, during a scene in the church, that she knows who she is and what she is, but she just has to plough ahead no matter what.”

Sin deep trouble: Emma has turned to God for salvation

It’s interesting to chart Emma’s descent into becoming one of the Dales’ biggest baddies. She began as a mum who’d been driven to desert her kids by their cheating dad, then got her family back, only to feel it all slip away again thanks to James’ infatuation with Moira. In many ways, she’s a victim in all of this too. Well – if only she didn’t respond to heartbreak with psychotic rage!

“I think I’m the only one who’s still convinced that Emma is a nice person –

Emma does what she has to do – she feels dreadful about it she's just lost her way!" muses Gillian. "It's been one disaster after another, and her life just gets worse and more extreme. Emma obviously got quite mentally ill, and tied James up because she was trying to make up for those lost 22 years. She was making an attempt at getting her husband back! But Emma always manages to destroy what she touches when she doesn't mean to."

We know that religion has been a comfort for Emma since she killed James, and Gillian says she understands why the Church is so important in her life.

"We all, to some degree, use the Church when we're really worried about something, or very unhappy," muses the star. "I'm a Catholic, and my son is at a Catholic school, so Emma's religious side doesn't freak me out at all. I am able to take the positives from faith, rather than make it a scary obsession like Emma has."

We know that Emma can only get away with her evil actions for so long, and Gillian will be leaving Emmerdale some time later this year. In the meantime, though, prepare to witness this terrifying woman fight tooth and nail to hold on to her family.

"Emma is very resourceful and manages to think fast on her feet," Gillian tells us. "The only thing that's keeping her sane is the feeling that God is protecting her. But this guilt and nagging dishonesty never leaves her..."

Kate White

"I would've gotten away with it, if it wasn't for you meddling kids!"

Emma isn't the first soap baddy to be rumbled by a junior whistleblower...

VICTORIA SUGDEN

Emmerdale's Victoria was only 10 when she rumbled a big secret. She'd seen big brother Robert snogging his sister-in-law Katie behind her hubby Andy's back. Robert did such a good job at keeping Vic quiet that she was left mute! With the help of a ventriloquist's dummy, Diane got her speaking again and she revealed Robert's betrayal...

BEN MITCHELL

Over in Walford, Ben was traumatised at the hands of unhinged stepmum Stella. Jealous of the love her fiancé Phil had for his son, Stella subjected the lad to mental abuse and physical torture. Finally, on Phil and Stella's wedding day, Ben spoke out about what was going on, and showed Phil his scars. Stella did a runner, and fell to her death.

CHARLIE DEAN

Hollyoaks' Charlie was left speechless – literally – after witnessing 'Gloved Hand Killer' Lindsey Roscoe give Doctor S'Avage a lethal injection! Nancy and Darren grew concerned when he started drawing dead people, and asked doc Lindsey to take a look at him. She then persuaded Charlie to tell the police that Trevor Royle was the killer!

“How...?”

“Who...?”

“Where...?”

“Why...?”

“When...?”

“What is...?”

You ASK...

They ANSWER!

ROSS ADAMS

Hollyoaks’ Scott Drinkwell

...faces your questions!

Star Ross, aka Scott, has been playing out some harrowing scenes of late. But despite his hectic filming schedule, the actor still has time to answer your questions...

“What’s the best thing about being a part of the Hutchinson family?”

For me, the best thing is getting to work with Nick Pickard [Tony] and Alex Fletcher [Diane] every day. Whenever I see on the call sheet that we’re all doing scenes together in Diane’s flat, I just really look forward to going into work. We always have a laugh. We are very much like a family on screen and off, and that’s so lovely.

“How did you react when told about Scott’s attempted suicide?”

I’ve known about it for quite a few months – but I’d be lying if I said that I wasn’t a bit daunted by it. It’s such a heavy subject matter, so I was a bit trepidatious about it, mainly because I just wanted to do the story justice, and do a good job. So it was a massive challenge, but one that felt like a real gift.

“Who’s your best friend from the show?”

“How much research did you have to do for the depression plot?”

In the early days of the story, Bryan [Kirkwood, Hollyoaks’ series producer] and I went along to the reading of a book called Straight Jacket by Matthew Todd – that focuses very much on LGBT mental health, and that was really interesting. Also our research team set up an interactive workshop day with people from the Samaritans and Mind, and that was very useful because we got to meet people who suffer from mental illness.

“I heard that you used to work behind-the-scenes at Corrie and Emmerdale before you joined Hollyoaks. Which show has the best canteen?”

Hollyoaks, because the guys in our canteen would annihilate me if I didn’t say that! We’ve got some real characters in our canteen. There’s a guy called Martin, who Scott was loosely based on. I actually think the writing team should hang out more in the canteen, because the stories you hear in that place are unreal!

“How much has your previous job as a scriptwriter on Emmerdale helped you at Hollyoaks?”

It’s given me an understanding of how hard all of the departments work – not just the writing department, but across the board. And I’ve made a real effort not to be one of those annoying actors who are in the office every time a line changes, because I reckon ultimately you've got to trust the writing team – they know the characters. I think the only time I've been in there was to question Scott's age, because there was something in the script that said he was older than I thought he was!

Friends like these: Ross is close to cast mate Steph

Grateful for small Mercys: Ross tells all on co-star Jen!

“What's it like dressing up in Scott's silly outfits?”

Actually, that's probably been one of the nicest things about having this depression storyline – his costumes have become a little bit less out there. I don't mind wearing whatever they give me to wear, but sometimes when you walk into the changing room and there's a pair of tiny pink hot pants, you think, 'Why me?'. I wouldn't wear anything that Scott wears.

“Can you tell us a secret about Jennifer Metcalfe [Mercedes]?”

I love working with Jen! What amazes me about her is how much she eats, and she still looks so fabulous. Obviously she's gone off to have a baby now, so recently she has been eating for two. But she can definitely eat more than I can!

“Who's your best pal at Hollyoaks?”

Steph Waring [Cindy]. She really welcomed me into the cast when I first joined, and because we live near each other, we often go out together. We have been secretly hoping for more scenes between Scott and Cindy.

“Is there anyone in the cast you would like to work with more?”

Someone you wouldn't expect Scott to be paired up with – like Warren. Can you imagine Scott working in the garage on reception? Warren would eat him for breakfast, though I think Scott would love that! They'd be an odd pairing, but that would be funny to watch.

“Did you do much research for this storyline?”

“Who would you like Scott's next boyfriend to be?”

I tell you who would be interesting – James. They've got a pure hate relationship! I think sometimes the most interesting romances are ones that start with people hating each other, and then it turns into passion. The only thing I'd worry about is that James would probably break his heart,

“We all know that Scott loves Britney Spears, but is there anyone you idolise that much?”

...asks reader G Peters from Shoreham-by-Sea

Jane McDonald! She's up there with Beyoncé, she's just incredible. I went to see her last week in Manchester, and her show was unreal! And the best thing was that I tweeted her beforehand, secretly hoping that I might get to meet her, and she sent her PA to find us. I went backstage and had a glass of champagne with her! Jane was everything I hoped she'd be.

£20
Question winner!

Tough times: Scott is receiving the help he needs for his depression and Scott is a bit fragile at the minute. Maybe he needs to be single for a while.

“What piece of advice would you give someone wanting to get into acting?”

Just keep at it. I worked fairly solidly for a good few years, and then suddenly the work dried up – and that's how I fell into working behind the camera. I'd resigned myself to the fact that I wouldn't do acting any more, and then Hollyoaks came up. So the one piece of advice that I would give to any budding actor, no matter how old they are, is just keep pushing yourself. If you want it enough, it will happen.

Every week, we put your questions to a star of the soaps. Look out for requests on our Facebook page, or email your questions to youask@insidesoap.co.uk, putting the actor's name in the subject line. Our favourite question each week will win a £20 prize!

THE WALFORD WAY!

THE EARLY DAYS OF Inside Soap SAW THE ARRIVAL OF THE BOISTEROUS JACKSON FAMILY IN WALFORD – AND NOW TWO OF THE CLAN’S SCRAPPY KIDS ARE COMING HOME...

PHOTOS TONY WARD

One thing we’ve learned at Inside Soap in our first two-and-a-half decades of life: if you organise an outdoor photo shoot, even in June, you can be certain the heavens will open. And so it comes as no surprise that, as we rig up our cameras and lights on the EastEnders set, we’re soon wiping away the drizzle. But then... a birthday miracle! Just when our stars for the day join us outside (appropriately enough) No 25 Albert Square, the clouds suddenly part and we’re bathed in sunshine.

Or is it just an illusion? Are we actually feeling the natural warmth between real-life best pals Natalie Cassidy and Dean Gaffney, who have played brother and sister Sonia and Robbie Jackson on and off since 1993?

“Without a doubt, Dean is my closest friend – even when we’re not on the show together,” beams Natalie, as we join the pair for a long-overdue catch-up. “We’re always on the phone if we ever need advice or just want a chat. It’s great.”

“Over the years we’ve always spoken at least once a week,” chips in Dean. “Natalie is like a real sister to me.”

Inside Soap was just a year old when Carol Jackson and her brood arrived in Walford. Since then, there’s been plenty of drama, both on screen and off. Natalie and Dean have dipped in and out of the show, taking time away to become parents and try their luck at reality TV shows. Natalie made her own fitness DVD and appeared in Celebrity Big Brother, while Dean braved the bugs in the I’m A Celebrity... jungle. However, as Robbie and Sonia make a full-time return to Walford this week, the duo tell us it’s great to be back where they belong...

Cassidy

"I'll be in EastEnders
until I die!"

Natalie was just 10 years old when she was cast as Sonia, and now she's one of the most recognisable faces in the UK. The grown-up actress has two young daughters, Eliza and Joanie, and is making a return to Albert Square following her maternity leave...

Are you happy to be reunited with Sonia's trumpet today, Natalie?

It's a lovely thing, and iconic in its own way. People are always shouting, "Where's your trumpet, Sonia?"

How does it feel to be coming back to EastEnders?

Honestly, it's just like coming home. Sometimes I feel more at home here than I do in my own home!

Was it an easy decision to come back after having Joanie?

Oh God, yes. I've always felt women have the right to have a baby and go back to work, so it didn't ever cross my mind that I wouldn't come back.

How has it been juggling work and motherhood?

I have a very good baby who sleeps really well, so it's great. Also when Sonia returns, initially it's going to be about her helping Dot and being there for Bex, so it's not huge amounts of work for me. It's nice!

How did you feel when you heard that Dean was coming back?

It's a dream come true to have that Sonia and Robbie relationship again, with the light-heartedness and a bit of comedy. And they've both grown up a lot. They're more sensible now!

What are your memories of those early days when the Jacksons first moved to Walford?

It was October, it was really cold – and I remember my black velour bomber jacket! As an acting family, we were incredibly close-knit. I still have the first publicity shot of us all stood outside the house pinned up on my bedroom wall.

Did you realise how big the show was at such a young age?

No, I didn't have a clue. When Jamie Mitchell died on Christmas Day, I think we got 16 million viewers. Telly has changed a bit since then, so I believe

I was very lucky to have experienced that.

Do you look at kids joining the show now and identify with them?

Very much so. I think the group of youngsters we have at the moment are fantastic. I can't believe I was that generation once, and now I'm watching a whole new generation doing the same thing. Sometimes I feel like I'm still that age, and then I remember that I'm not!

Inside Soap is 25 years old! Do you remember the first time you were in the magazine?

I have a big leather-bound book that my mum made for me, which contains all my early press appearances. I'm pretty sure I have an Inside Soap cover of myself, Gemma Bissix [who played Clare Bates] and Carly Hillman [aka Nicky di Marco]. They're all in a book so I can show my children.

How have you dealt with the press attention over the years?

The press have been quite good to me. I mean, I've had the articles about bad outfits and what have you, but then a lot of choices have been my own. The fitness DVDs, weight loss and weight gain, for example, have all been followed – though most of that was when I was out of the show.

Why did you decide to leave EastEnders after your initial stint?

I'd been on the show for 14 years, and it was just time to have a little explore outside. If I had my time again, I probably wouldn't have left. I'm here until I die now!

Is Sonia still the same as she always was?

There might be a few secrets along the way, I imagine – but apart from that she is the same. It's lovely having Sonia and Robbie back together, and then you have the dynamic of Bex with Martin and Stacey. There's guilt there for Sonia as a lot has been going on, and she hasn't been around.

Does being a mum yourself help?

It makes such a difference when you have your own children. Sonia was pregnant and had a child when she was very young, and as an actress I did the best that I could. But unless you have your own children, it's very difficult to know exactly what it's like. Now I act out scenes with Jasmine [Armfield, who plays Bex] where I burst into tears. The emotions come very easily!

Tell us about the state of Sonia's love life...

Who knows where she's going next? People say she is a lesbian, but obviously she is bisexual and that's pretty clear now. Personally I'd like to see Sonia and Kush get together. I think they'd make a good couple!

What do you wish for Sonia's future in Albert Square?

I think that for now, Sonia's main relationship will be with her brother, and once that is bedded in, other relationships will soon blossom.

I hope to sit here in 20 years and say she's been married twice and divorced. That's soap for you!

Dean Gaffney

“People shout ‘Wellard’ at me every single day!”

After Robbie left the Square in 2003, 39-year-old Dean has returned to EastEnders on a couple of occasions for the odd guest stint. However, the star – who has 20-year-old twin daughters – is very open about the fact that he was always hoping to come back to Walford...

Hi Dean! How does it feel to be back on Albert Square?

It's the maddest feeling. When I had my first meeting with our executive producer, Sean O'Connor, he instigated Robbie's return, and just said, "Come home" – that was an amazing thing to hear. I think EastEnders always knew that I wanted to come back.

Have people always associated you with EastEnders, even when you've been out of the show?

Yes! Wellard [Robbie's infamous pet dog] is the main thing that's shouted at me. If I don't hear "Wellard!" at least once a day, something's not right.

What are your memories of joining the show when you were a teenager?

At that time, we had the likes of Pam St Clement [Pat Butcher], Mike Reid [Frank Butcher], Wendy Richard [Pauline Fowler], June Brown [Dot], Ross Kemp... and you'd be like, "Wow, it's Grant Mitchell". So it was daunting, but it was much easier coming into the show with a family of actors around you.

How did you deal with the level of attention given to you?

I went to drama school, appeared in a few adverts and a play in the West End – but nothing propelled me to fame like EastEnders did. I think at that time I had really bad skin, like most 15-year-olds have, which the papers picked up on. I'm not going to lie – it was hard!

Can you remember your first day on set when you met the rest of the Jacksons for the first time?

I think one of our first scenes was in the Vic, and it was Carol storming in and being a bit mouthy! I can imagine at that point, people going, "Who the hell are this lot?". But we stood the test of time, and 24 years on, there are still two Jacksons in the show.

Did you all bond instantly?

Yeah, we all knew at that point that Lindsey [Palmer, aka Bianca] was going to be good, and we all looked up to her. Patsy [Palmer, aka Bianca] was 21 at the time, so she was going through those important years while being in a big soap. I remember watching the Carol, Dan and Bianca love triangle and thinking, 'This is brilliant television'.

Looking back, do you agree that Robbie was a bit of a plonker when he was younger?

To be honest, I think the plonker side of Robbie is what has kept me in the show for so long! When I first joined, Robbie was like a younger version of nasty Nick Cotton, and I think if they'd carried that on, he wouldn't have lasted so long.

Do you remember how you felt when Robbie was axed in 2003?

I read an interview recently with the boss who let me go at the time, who said that she kind of regretted her decision. But unless you're Ken Barlow or Ian Beale, it's very rare that you're going to be in a soap for that long.

Have you drawn comparisons between you and Robbie?

Robbie's face has changed, and equally so has mine! Certainly, having come back to the show now with a bit of grey in my hair, quite a lot of the women in Walford are telling me that I'm looking more distinguished, so that's nice!

"I don't think we've ever had an argument"

Join us for a little eavesdropping as Natalie and Dean reminisce about their friendship and their shared history in EastEnders...

Natalie I was absolutely thrilled when I heard Dean was returning to the show. I've wanted it for a long time, and it's important as it gives Sonia someone to talk to other than her ex-husband! Robbie brings such a lightness to EastEnders, and I think the viewers will be pleased with what they see. It's nostalgic – and nostalgia is big at the moment.

Dean I couldn't have put it better myself! Before I came back, Natalie reminded me actors are renowned for moaning. She said: "As this is a job you've always wanted to come back to..."

Natalie "...I never want to hear you moan!"

Dean We take the mick, but I don't think we've ever had an argument.

Natalie We haven't. And that's down to honesty. Our relationship is based on honesty, and being blunt with each other about how we feel. I never lie to Dean.

Dean At no point did we not keep in touch, so whenever we see each other, it's just like, "Hiya!". I've known Natalie since she was nine, so we've grown up together.

Natalie Dean makes me laugh every day. He cares about everything very deeply.

Dean Once my head gets a bit smaller after what Natalie's just said, I'll say the best thing about Natalie is that she's a consummate pro. She always knows her lines. And in an environment like EastEnders – which is so fast-paced – you need someone who's on top of their game.

Natalie Like Lindsey Coulson, who played our mum, Carol. We both always looked up to her.

Dean I don't think the show has ever seen a better actor than Lindsey. We learned from her from day one.

Natalie We both still keep in touch with Lindsey as well.

Dean I sent her a text to let her know Robbie was coming back, and she was over the moon for me.

Natalie Maybe she'll be watching – and keeping an eye on us both!

Ross Kemp

Grant Mitchell 1997

The biggest star of Inside Soap in the 90s was Grant – with Ross featuring on more covers than anyone else. In fact, this cute-as-a-button picture of Grant and newborn Courtney – his daughter with Tiffany – graced the cover of one of our top-selling issues. If this image doesn't make you broody, nothing will! We also couldn't resist including this little snap from 1993, when we joined Ross during his training for a marathon to raise money for a children's charity. Nice leg raise!

Michelle Collins

Cindy Beale 1992

It was a hard life bitching and scheming as EastEnders' Cindy, so an early issue of Inside Soap saw us give Michelle – who was always lots of fun to work with – a bit of a break. We took her to a swanky spa for some pampering, which included a nice glass or two of fizz, of course.

Joe Absolom & Martin Kemp

Matthew Rose & Steve Owen 1999

The Valentine's Day massacre, when Steve killed his crazed ex Saskia, had viewers gripped – especially when he framed poor youngster Matthew for the crime! Inside Soap* gave readers the choice of two covers, featuring these exclusive images of the pair's mugshots.

Sid Owen & Danniella Westbrook

Ricky & Sam Butcher 1992

Sid and Danniella were EastEnders' teenage dream, after their smitten characters eloped to Gretna Green to marry. We caught up with the pair the following year, when all was still going well. Alas, it wasn't to last, but has there ever been a more 90s photo than this?

Sean Maguire

Aidan Brosnan 1993

Like many EastEnders stars before him, Sean graduated from kids' school drama Grange Hill and headed to Albert Square.

Here he is, showing off his ball skills as apprentice Walford Town player Aidan.

And like many before and after him, Sean used his EastEnders fame to tackle the pop charts – with more success than most, we must say – but these days he enjoys a successful acting career on television in the States.

Tracy-Ann Oberman & Jill Halfpenny

Chrissie Watts & Kate Mitchell 2004

When Chrissie discovered that fellow hairdresser Kate had been having it off with her hubby Dirty Den, she took revenge – cutting off her rival's hair and trashing the salon. So we recreated the big moment, 50s style!

Dean Gaffney & Shaun Williamson

Robbie Jackson & Barry Evans 2000

With their characters having more comedy moments than most, Inside Soap decided to dress up Dean and Shaun as one of the screen's funniest duos – Laurel and Hardy. And the hilarious pair relished the chance to get into 'another fine mess' as they larked about for our photographer.

Gavin Richards

Terry Raymond 1999

A Walford karaoke night brought out an unlikely star in the normally grumpy Terry, as he belted out a Tom Jones number – so we decided to give Gavin the chance to go the full Tom! The up-for-it actor enjoyed our Inside Soap ladies touching a bit more than the green green grass of Jones!

Marc Elliott, Nina Wadia & John Partridge

Syed & Zainab Masood & Christian Clarke 2009

If there was one thing Zainab didn't want for Christmas, it was her son Syed's secret lover, Christian! But Nina had no such trouble, and enjoyed festive fun with 'her boys' at Inside Soap's Christmas-morning pyjama party!

Perry Fenwick & Kacey Ainsworth

Billy & Little Mo Mitchell 2002

Who gets married on Christmas Day? It must be murder to get all your family there – not to mention the expense! So hats off to Billy and Little Mo, who tied the knot in a festive Walford wedding.

Inside Soap created a Winter Wonderland for the loved-up pair to celebrate their big day.

John Bardon & June Brown

Jim & Dot Branning 2002

Late-in-life love blossomed between roguish Jim and strait-laced Dot. He had a big job on his hands to woo her – going all the way to the top of the London Eye to propose! Sadly, their time was cut short after ill health forced John to bow out of the show in 2007, the actor making a few more brief appearances as Jim before passing away in 2014.

Lucy Speed & Shaun Williamson

Barry & Natalie Evans 1999

EastEnders saw in the millenium with two of the show's most-loved characters tying the knot in a New Year's Eve wedding fraught with comedic disaster! The good times lasted three years – quite a while in Walford terms, and a lot longer than Ian and Mel Beale, who wed on the same day and didn't last past the chimes of Big Ben!

Linda Henry Shirley Carter 2009

Talk about making an entrance! Linda showed that she certainly knows how to do glam – but only when she's not playing Shirley! The actress joined some of her co-stars in a special shoot to promote the 2009 Inside Soap Awards, looking sensational in her purple gown!

Tameka Empson & Diane Parish Kim Fox-Hubbard & Denise Fox 2014

With Frozen gripping the nation, we couldn't think of two better soap sisters to get into the Snow Queen spirit. Amazingly, in their time together on Albert Square, Diane and Tameka had never done a photo shoot with one another. So we were thrilled when they agreed to bring some sparkle to our Christmas issue – after all, there's no business like snow business!

Pam St Clement

Pat Evans 2002

We had a rare peek into Pat's boudoir when Inside Soap was granted access to the character's most precious possessions – Pat's earring collection.

Pam told us the tales behind several of the fabulous pairs – including sets that had been sent in by fans.

Robert Kazinsky

Sean Slater 2008

Inside Soap doesn't have favourites, but if we did, it may well be Rob. This charming man is now enjoying big Hollywood success, so we're sure he'll be thrilled we've reprinted this from our Christmas panto shoot!

Rita Simons

Roxy Mitchell 2008

With Roxy a classic EastEnders tart with a heart, we went full vamp for our sexy shoot with Rita – sitting her on a chair so brash it must have been nicked straight from Kat Moon's living room!

Shona McGarty & Lorna Fitzgerald

Whitney Dean & Abi Branning 2014

Spring was in the air, and that meant only one thing for our shoot with Shona and Lorna – cute puppies! However, the session did take longer than expected on the day, mainly down to the pups weeing every two minutes, and the set having to be cleaned and reset. A ruff day for all at Inside Soap!

JUNE BROWN

by Allison Jones,
Features Editor

Back in 2001, I was excited to be heading for my first face-to-face interview with the fabulous June Brown (Dot). I'd been given an hour for our chat on the EastEnders set, where June sat with me in the green room – still decked out in full Dot costume after filming a scene. She was in typically sparkling form, and fascinating to behold – so captivating, I didn't even realise we'd chatted way over our allotted time, and I'd run out of tape...

June kindly invited me to join her for lunch, in no hurry to rush off elsewhere. She really is a phenomenal woman, and I'll never forget that day!

PAM ST CLEMENT

By Sarah Ellis,
Deputy Features Editor

Not long after I started working at Inside Soap, I was invited to the EastEnders set for an interview with Pam St Clement (aka Pat Butcher). Pam walked into the room wearing a tabard – Pat was a cleaner on screen at the time, and she was still in costume.

But I was really surprised when she spoke, since her real-life voice is far posher than her character. She was a fascinating interview and I just remember being totally star-struck throughout the whole thing. What an absolute legend!

THE MASOODS

by Kate White, Writer

I've never laughed as much as on a Valentine's shoot with the Masoods. Nitin Ganatra (Masood) and Nina Wadia (Zainab) were asked to channel their then-passionate on-screen relationship for the Inside Soap camera. Nitin was in a saucy mood, and had us in stitches with his commentary – which we can't repeat in a family magazine – while naughty Nina matched him quip for quip.

STEVE MCFADDEN

By Laura-Jayne Tyler,
News Editor

It was the Inside Soap Awards 2007 – my first after being hired as the mag's new editorial assistant a few weeks earlier. Naturally, I was both excited and nervous to be meeting the stars. I was most in awe of Steve McFadden – well, it's Phil Mitchell, after all – but you'd be a fool not to say hello! I spotted Steve at the after party, and grabbed my chance. Steve is lovely in real life. He knows his character inside out, puts his heart and soul into every story he tells – and he's nothing like Phil!

We must have been chatting for 20 minutes before a suitable gap in conversation, where Steve points up and says politely, "Erm, you'll have to excuse me, but I really need the loo". Just above his head was a sign for the gents – I had only gone and accosted poor Steve just as he was on his way to the toilet! Bless him for entertaining us for as long as he did.

ROBERT KAZINSKY

by Steven Murphy, Editor

Not my proudest moment! We were at a preview of the big EastEnders Christmas episodes, but went straight from another event – already rather merry! As more wine was had, I entered into a chat with Rob Kazinsky, aka Sean Slater.

For some reason, I was drunkenly insisting I was taller than him, so forced him to stand back-to-back with me while another journalist judged. As I crowed in victory, I tripped on a sofa and landed with a thud right over the back of it. As Rob helped me to my feet, he couldn't keep the smile off his face.

MOUNT PLEASANT | Sky1 FRIDAY

HOLD ON TIGHT!

DANIEL RYAN EXPLAINS HOW THE END OF THE SHOW WAS A BUMPY RIDE FOR EVERYONE...

After six years of relationship ups and downs with Lisa and Dan Johnson and their neighbours, the time has come to wave goodbye to Sky1's Mount Pleasant – but the good news is that it's back for one last hurrah this Friday to ensure that the show gets a proper send-off. That doesn't mean it was easy for the cast to let it go, though...

"I think my initial reaction was, 'I don't want to do it', because I didn't want to face up to the fact that it was the last one!" admits Daniel Ryan, who plays Dan. "But of course, the reality is that I still got to spend three weeks filming with my best friends, and give the audience a chance to say goodbye to these characters."

Daniel knows all about the importance of giving closure to the fans, having starred in ITV's wartime drama Home Fires, which was cancelled last year despite a real cliffhanger ending to the second series that left major storylines unresolved.

"They've just got Home Fires in the States on PBS, so we've just had another wave of people going, 'What? You can't end it like that!'," he chuckles. "So by the same token, I think people have maybe learnt from that, how it's very hard to leave a much-loved show hanging, and it was really nice of Sky to give us the chance to wave goodbye to them properly."

The final episode sees Lisa and Dan preparing to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, and Dan's mum Pauline has planned a big surprise for them – although Lisa's expectations are already slightly out of control.

"She's inevitably hoping to go somewhere glamorous and expensive," explains Daniel. "While Dan's living in the real world, and he knows it's probably not going to be that way! And at the same time, a massive offer comes in to buy out Lisa's company, Fersa, with the potential that they're going to leave Mount Pleasant and move to Milton Keynes."

The move would mean a big change for the couple, not least leaving all of their friends behind – and there's a little bit of friction ahead when Lisa's blinkered approach doesn't necessarily take her husband's feelings into consideration.

"Lisa just bulldozes through with everything," shares Daniel. "It comes to a point in the end where they have the conversation and go, 'You know, you've never actually asked what I think' – that's something that I think will resonate with a lot of couples. They think they know each other, they think they know what the other wants, and that's not always the case."

We won't spoil whether Lisa and Dan go ahead with the move – you'll have to tune in to find out – but whatever their decision, this is definitely our last visit to Mount Pleasant for the foreseeable future, and Daniel knows they'll be seeing it out in style.

"We always get together when the first episode of a new series goes out," he reveals. "So we will be together in a room – expect some shocking pictures on Twitter of us crying

BBC1's Count Arthur Strong picks his dream viewing...

Teletubbies

I don't really like comedy, but if push comes to shove I would have to say my favourites are Mister Ed, which is about a talking horse called Wilbur, and Vic Reeves Big Night Out. Oh, and Fawlty Towers and Cheers and Larry Sanders and Seinfeld and Catastrophe and Cradle To Grave and Car Share... but as I say, I don't really like comedy.

My favourite film would have to be *Bridge Up The River Kwai, which starred the so-called Alex Guinness. I watch it at least twice a day, because I'm whistling, 'Hitler Has Only Got One Ball' in a crowd scene in the Japanese concentration camp, and I try to spot myself so I can get some repeat fees.

Mister Ed

The Bridge On The River Kwai

Growing up, my favourite shows were the classics: The Army Game, Bootsie And Snudge, Nearest And Dearest... although define 'growing up', because I liked the Teletubbies as well, and I don't know whether to say that?

If I could be in any other show, I'd be in *The Borgias, and I would play the part of Pope Victor Borgia. I am a certified lay preacher and am often called upon to deputise for Father Thompson at St Aidan's when he's off sick – which wasn't my fault. Although I wouldn't want the Popemobile, thank you, I'd go for something like a Jaguar MK2 like Morse had. Come to think of it, I'd just be Morse in Inspector Morse. That would be simpler.

● Follow the latest happenings in Arthur's showbiz career in Count Arthur Strong BBC1 Friday and laughing and drinking! We've given it a good send-off – the little reality check is when you come off set and see that they've finished with all the props and furniture so everything's got a price tag on it. That brings you back down to earth – it's not just our place of fun, it's a business!"

THE VOICE KIDS | ITV SATURDAY

WE TOOK A BIT OF CONVINCING that an all-kids version of the singing contest was a good idea. We expected a load of precocious stage-school brats, but we were sold as soon as we saw the first episode. If anything, this is superior to the grown-up version. Where we would normally get people saying this is their last shot at a singing career, here we have kids who are genuinely thrilled at their first real chance to perform on a big stage – even if they don't pass the audition. It absolutely basks in the contestants' youthful optimism, which is just the sort of thing we need on TV right now.

FULLY BOOKED

ALEX POLIZZI TELLS US WHY SHE'S STILL IN LOVE WITH HER FIRST TV JOB...

It's not long ago that Alex Polizzi was giving us a guided tour of some of the most beautiful parts of Spain. We thought it must be a comedown to go from such a perfect job to once again having to help struggling hotel owners turn their fortunes around. But when we called Alex for a chat, she assured us she was raring to get going...

Don't you ever find yourself wishing you were making one of your travel shows when you're back on The Hotel Inspector?

Oh no, I love The Hotel Inspector! I absolutely love it. I mean, it ain't glamorous most of the time, let's put it that way. Certainly those days when I'm off wandering around Spain drinking sherry endlessly are quite pleasurable – but on the other hand, I really love hotels, I love the whole business, and I do feel very invested in the success or failure of the places I get involved with in the show.

What can you tell us about the establishments you're visiting in this series?

There's a really good mixture of different places again. I feel that this is a bit 'Austerity Hotel Inspector', in the sense that everyone is struggling – well, I suppose I wouldn't be called in if everyone was making loads of money. But I also sense that lots of hotel people who've been hanging on by their fingers and toes for years are really starting to feel it at the moment – so there's definitely that feeling that the stakes are quite high.

CO-PRESENTER MICHELLE ACKERLEY TELLS US ALL ABOUT LIFE ON THE ROAD...

The Crimewatch Roadshow team are now into their third week of live broadcasts from around the country, and this week they'll be based in the north-west of England. We chatted to the programme's co-presenter Michelle Ackerley, and she revealed that they will be covering some very timely topics this time around...

"We're going to be looking at what the emergency services are still doing in the aftermath of the attack on Manchester," she tells us. "We'll be with the forensic teams and fire and rescue training facilities and the mounted unit in Manchester, which is where they train all the horses that are involved in big events like the recent One Love concert. We'll look

You've come up against some stubborn opposition before – what were the people like this time?

They're much, much nicer. It was such a relief, because I know that it's fun for TV purposes for me to be dealing with complete and utter weirdos, though for me it's incredibly difficult. I'm trying hard to make a difference to people's accommodation – but some people really handicap me in doing that, by not listening or by ridiculing, or by just having very difficult characters that don't allow any room for manoeuvre.

You're also doing narration for Our Dream Hotel at the moment – how has it been seeing people just starting out in the hotel business?

Really interesting – I wish I'd been more involved in that project, actually. It's at the beginning that you have the chance to make the most impact, to tell people what mistakes they're making. That's a luxury I'm not usually afforded – with some of them, it's just so painful watching them stagger onwards...

at how they train them not to react when there are people screaming and shouting all around you."

Michelle informs us she loves the variety of things that she ends up doing on this show, from training with riot police to learning detective skills, and that working on a series that is constantly on the move has also helped her learn a few new tricks.

"You get very good at packing your suitcase!" she laughs. "On the Saturday evening before we travel for rehearsals, I'm thinking, 'Right, what am I taking for the next five or six days?'. It's like a military operation!"

DAVID DICKINSON IS TELLING SOME TALL TALES IN A NEW GAME SHOW...

There's something reassuringly old-fashioned about this new quiz, in which David Dickinson asks contestants to try to identify the truly valuable antique in a selection of three objects. It reminds us of the feelings we used to get from classic 80s game shows, and that's very much deliberate.

"There's nothing like that around on television at the moment," David tells Inside TV. "There's a bit of jeopardy in there, and then there is The Duke's tall tale."

Ah yes, about that – in the early rounds, David will give the contestants a potted history of all three items that explains why they're worth big money. But he'll only be telling the truth about one of them – the other stories will be complete fabrications.

"I'm a bit of a tale-teller, so it came very easy for me," chuckles the presenter. "I've been in the antique business for a long time, and there are extraordinary items out there which have tales behind them that are almost unbelievable – but they are real."

Although he's hosted his own chat show, working in a studio with a live audience was a bit of unknown territory for David.

"I went to see the contestants before they walked out," he says, "just to put them at ease – and assure them that while I may pull their leg a bit, I'd never do anything which was naughty or embarrassing to them!"

Mission control

DOCTOR WHO | BBC1 6.45PM

What could possibly go wrong with a little trial exercise where Missy has a go at play-acting the role of the Doctor? Well, quite a lot, obviously, but it's still great fun watching her repeatedly introduce herself as "Doctor Who" and coming up with new names for Nardole and Bill every time (our personal favourites were "Exposition" and "Comic Relief").

Of course, it's not long before things get out of control and the Doctor himself needs to step in and take charge. But even with the trusted Time Lord at the helm, this mission manages to go seriously awry.

Tonight's episode is the first half of the two-part series finale, and there are lots of really spectacular twists that we're not allowed to tell you anything about, but we reckon you're going to enjoy them...

Out and about

BRITAIN'S GREAT GAY BUILDINGS | Channel 4 8PM

To clarify: the buildings themselves are not gay, but they are locations that have shaped and defined Britain's gay history. Stephen Fry hosts this documentary, while other famous faces give us tours of the sites that they feel are of particular importance – they include Craig Revel Horwood on the drag scene at London's Royal Vauxhall Tavern, and Mary Portas exploring the coded diaries of an heiress in Yorkshire's Shibden Hall.

GLASTONBURY 2017 | BBC4 7PM

Coverage from Worthy Farm continues across the BBC this weekend, and tonight on BBC4 we have the slightly odd double-header of Toots and The Maytals and Liam Gallagher. Later on, you can also enjoy The National and Father John Misty, while BBC2 will be offering us the hotly-anticipated headline gig from Foo Fighters, who had to cancel in 2015 when frontman Dave Grohl broke his leg.

CITIZEN KHAN | Gold 9PM

A series three stack begins tonight, and Mr Khan is greatly relieved when his mother-in-law announces that she wants to move into a home. But then he discovers that she may be worth a few quid, and quickly changes his tune...

ROYAL PAINS | Universal 5PM

Hank is a long way from the Hamptons as he accompanies Boris on a trip to Hong Kong, where he manages to fit in a whirlwind romance with a researcher. Back home, Paige and Evan look into alternative methods of having a baby.

Pressed for time

THE LOCH | ITV 9PM

Quigley's decision to bring flashy Blake Albrighton in to consult as forensic psychologist on the case has already ruffled DCI Smilie's feathers, and now we're starting to see why.

During a press conference with local reporters about the disappearance of Jonjo Patterson, Blake steps in and declares that he believes "a smart and highly dangerous serial killer" is at large in the community. This immediately sparks uproar, and Smilie is furious. However, the forensics are due back imminently on the discovered body parts – might they prove Blake right?

Hoping to get things back on track, the police organise a town meeting to inform the locals about their progress in the investigation – but it's also a chance for them to potentially gather crucial new evidence...

Search for the hero

POLDARK | BBC1 9PM

Ross and Tholly are in Roscoff trying to find any information on Dwight's whereabouts, and it's a more hostile environment than they expected. Back in Cornwall, Demelza and Caroline can only wait anxiously for news of their husbands. Elsewhere, George Warleggan, having ticked 'become a magistrate' off his list, has his eyes on becoming a burgess next – but, realising he is unpopular, George decides it's time he became a man of the people. This should be good.

MARVEL'S AGENTS OF SHIELD | E4 9PM

As we've mentioned before, season four of Marvel's Agents Of SHIELD has been divided into three distinct story 'pods', so it'll be interesting to find out if it can deliver a finale tonight that wraps up all of those elements in a satisfying fashion. That remains to be seen, but what we do know is that Ivanov has a plan to use the Darkhold against the Inhumans, and SHIELD are determined to stop him.

LUTHER | W 10PM

Hot on the heels of the big news about the new series (see p73!), W has lined up a very timely re-airing of this two-part special. John Luther has taken a break from police work, but a new discovery sends him back to his old life.

IDIOTSITTER | 5STAR 1.55AM

Body of evidence

RIPPER STREET | BBC2 9PM

The grisly price of justice is becoming all too apparent in this final series of the Victorian cop drama: as they remain on the run from a corrupt police force, Reid and Jackson find themselves procuring a body from a morgue in an attempt to get the truth out there – although admittedly, it's via the route of subterfuge.

Their plan is to set up the body as the latest victim of the cannibal killer, demonstrating that it can't have been the now-deceased Abel Croker. But will their cunning efforts be enough to hoodwink Jebediah Shine and his team?

Speaking of which, things aren't all that happy back at Leman Street, with Thatcher and Drummond openly brawling in the station – and it becomes clear that Thatcher, in particular, is really not happy with the way things are being run nowadays...

Split decisions

LOADED | Channel 4 10PM

The comedy series comes to a close tonight as the team find themselves, quite frankly, in a bit of a mess. Except for Ewan, that is, who's finally being taken seriously after all this time, but even that comes with its own set of problems. Elsewhere, Josh and Abi are trying to live a normal life, while the now broke-again Watto realises that his problems weren't all money-related, and Leon is doing his best to bring the gang back together one last time.

Pet projects

THE DOG RESCUERS WITH ALAN DAVIES | Channel 5 8PM

Prepare for more emotional rollercoasters tonight with Alan back to follow the RSCPA once again as they rescue neglected dogs and attempt to rehome them with loving, caring owners.

As ever, the early parts of the stories make for uncomfortable viewing – collie cross Timmy is found surrounded by his own waste and with a tumour on his face, for example – but it's the dedication of the inspectors that provides the warm heart of this show as they do everything they can to make the dogs happy and healthy again.

Also in tonight's show, Helen tries to help a shih tzu whose matted fur has left him struggling to see or hear, and Simon checks in on two French bulldog puppies who were abandoned in a park in Wales.

Carl the cops

BROKEN | BBC1 9PM

After everything Helen has been through, the arrival of her brother Daniel ought to be a tonic for her – but that's not really how it works out in tonight's episode, as Daniel gets off on the wrong foot with Helen's neighbour Carl, which leads to a fight in the street. Father Michael, caught in the middle as ever, does his best to provide a voice of calmness and moderation. But when the police get involved, existing tensions are brought back to the surface.

WENTWORTH PRISON | 5STAR 9PM

Not that we want to overhype tonight's episode, but this one had just gone out in Australia when we spoke to Bernard Curry, who plays Jake Stewart, and here's what he had to say: "It's one of the most epic pieces of television you're ever likely to see, in terms of the drama and the cliffhanger and what goes on. It's just had this enormous reaction – people are saying they're never going to recover!" Blimey...

TWIN PEAKS: THE RETURN | Sky Atlantic 9PM

The Twin Peaks peeps have taken being cagey to a whole new level: each week, we get just a short, sharp sentence to hint at where that episode might be going. This week's is "gotta light?", so your guess is as good as ours.

VEEP | Sky Atlantic 10.10PM

All Selina's dreams seem to be coming to fruition in tonight's finale, as the construction of her presidential library is finally scheduled to begin. But if we've learned anything from this show, there's sure to be a sting in the tail.

THE WEEK THE LANDLORDS MOVED IN | BBC1 9PM

Ah, now this is a good idea: it's sort of a Wife Swap for the modern age – but rather than swapping partners, this series invites successful landlords to move into their own rental properties for a week and live on the income that their tenants have to survive on.

Tonight's opener features two sets of participants: father and son team Peter and Mark, and Paul and his girlfriend Priya. In both cases, they consider themselves good, responsible landlords and reckon that they've earned the right to live the good life.

But when they get the keys to their new homes and see the conditions that their tenants are currently living in, the reality of how they're earning their money gradually starts to hit home...

Missy independent

ACKLEY BRIDGE | Channel 4 8PM

With devastating developments in the Booth household this week, Missy is left making decisions that no teenager should have to make. She's worried that social services will take her sister Haley into care, so she tries to hide what's really going on – but for how long can she keep up the charade? Eventually, it's Kaneez who feels that she has no choice but to tell Mandy, when she gets dragged into a fight between Missy and her mother.

SPA WARS | ITVBe 8PM

The beauty industry might get a little bit ugly in this new competition show that does for spas what Come Dine With Me did for dinner parties and Four In A Bed did for B&Bs. In each episode, three salon owners will visit each other's establishments to sample the treatments. At the end, they'll pay what they think their experience was worth, and the spa that earns the highest percentage of its total bill wins – and the fighting won't be pretty...

THE BLACKLIST | Sky1 9PM

A double-helping of episodes to wrap up the series tonight. The siege on Red's empire leaves him in a tough position as his associates start deserting him. Red has a plan to save himself and the task force – but it's high-risk...

MR ROBOT | Universal 9PM

The second season of the computer-hacking drama has been gripping but confusing, so we're hoping for a little clarity from tonight's finale. Elliot will be getting clued in on the big mysteries – but can he trust what he's being told?

NAKED ATTRACTION | Channel 4 10PM

"Screen grabs are prohibited" was one of the notes on our preview copy of this show, which has regrettably foiled our plans to fill this page with grainy pictures of people's bits.

That's right, the controversial 'dating show in reverse', where contestants choose a date based purely on seeing a prospective partner in the buff, is back for a new series. It's still rather difficult to believe this show isn't just an elaborate practical joke, but there we are.

First to pick for the new series is 21-year-old Dom, who was nominated for the show by his mum (IMAGINE!) after failing to find love through more conventional means. Also taking part tonight is pansexual Izzy, who's open to prospective partners of any gender.

Wedded bliss

THIS MORNING | ITV 10.30AM

There's also romance in the offing over on This Morning, er, this morning as the show hosts its latest live wedding. The lucky couple this year are Sonya and Paul, who've been together for 20 years and got engaged twice, but always found that money problems or other circumstances got in the way of actually getting married. However, with the help of the This Morning team, today they'll be saying their vows and putting a ring on it live on TV. Have the tissues handy.

RIVIERA | Sky Atlantic 9PM

Georgina is convinced that if she could just get into the safe room that Constantine had installed before he died, she'd be able to figure out what he was up to in the moments leading up to his death. The trouble is, she needs a code to get in, and Christos curtly informs her that he promised his father he wouldn't reveal it to anyone – "especially not to you". With that avenue cut off for now, Georgina decides to organise a family gathering instead...

OUTLANDER | More4 9PM

It's a bit of a surprise to see this time-travel drama arriving on More4 now when it first aired in America in 2014. While honeymooning in Scotland after World War II, an army nurse suddenly finds herself transported to 1743...

NEW GIRL | E4 9PM

Reagan (Megan Fox) returns temporarily tonight as she's in town for work. Nick isn't sure how to behave around her, so he adopts entirely the wrong approach. In tonight's second episode, Cece has teething problems in her new job.

A dog's life

THE SECRET WORLD OF POSH PETS | ITV 8PM

"£4,000 ON A WEDDING FOR DOGS?!" is just one of the things that drove us to all-caps while taking notes about this series, which details the ways in which some of the country's wealthiest pet owners part with their cash.

And yes, entrepreneur Debi really does spend £4k on a wedding between a teacup Chihuahua and a Chihuahua cross – despite her partner Bob pointing out that they won't be able to consummate the union "because they've both been done". (And here we were thinking Naked Attraction was giving us too much information...)

Also featured are Louise and Sophie, who breed pygmy hedgehogs and won't sell them to just anyone, and dog portrait artist Rob, who charges a mere £5,000 for a picture of a pooch.

The missing link

LETHAL WEAPON | ITV 9PM

Was it unwise of Riggs to get into bed with Karen Palmer? It sure looks that way when he and Murtaugh are called to a crime scene where the victim is someone Riggs saw talking to Palmer earlier that morning. Then Palmer disappears – and Riggs and Murtaugh discover her safe house plastered with blood. Uh oh. Meanwhile, the newly-unemployed Trish is living the high life when a wealthy former client tries to convince her to work for him...

NASHVILLE | Sky Living 9PM

Well, this is going to be a fairly difficult episode to discuss without revealing the MAJOR PLOT SPOILER that happened last week, but bear with us anyway. Everyone is now rallying round in the wake of the aforementioned Event That We Shall Not Disclose, but all attempts at peace and goodwill take a back seat when an unexpected legal problem presents itself. Ah, a Nashville court battle. Those always end well...

LAW & ORDER: LOS ANGELES | 5USA 9PM

A car chase ends with the discovery of a dead woman in the passenger seat, and the driver has fled the vehicle. The team catch up with him, but find that he had been drinking heavily and has very little recollection of what happened.

LOVE ISLAND | ITV2 9PM

We've come to the end of another sun-drenched week on Love Island, which usually means drama for our couples. Will anyone find romance blossoming? And who'll be up to no good when they think we can't see them?

BOOK

THE THINGS WE THOUGHT WE KNEW

by Mahsuda Snaith

Ravine has been lying in a bed in a council flat for the past 10 years, and isn't planning to move any time soon. She's plagued by chronic pain syndrome, and has been ever since the day her best friend disappeared...

DVD

MOONLIGHT

This drama set in the 1980s tells the story of an African-American man navigating the dangers of life in a bad Miami neighbourhood – while also dealing with his burgeoning homosexuality. Starring Bafta-nominated Naomie Harris.

STAR CHOICE

Lorna Fitzgerald (EastEnders' Abi)

"I've just finished watching White Gold on BBC2, which stars Ed Westwick from Gossip Girl and two guys from The Inbetweeners. I watched six episodes in two days! It's set in the 80s, so the soundtrack is great and the clothes are brilliant. I would definitely recommend watching it!"

THE HONEYMOON

For as long as she can remember, Jemma has been planning the perfect honeymoon. It should be total paradise – but it turns into a nightmare when her husband of less than a week suddenly goes missing...

DVD

GUERRILLA

This multilayered tale follows the growth of the black-power movement in 1970s Britain. With racism commonplace, two activists – Jas and Marcus – find themselves under intense pressure when they clash with bigoted police. Starring Idris Elba.

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Abi's party invitation seems to show her poised to commit another of her dog murders. (RIP Tramp. Never forgotten. Never forgiven.)

We suspect there's a lot of grown men out there who would pay good money to be fed with a spoon by Diane Parish.

Your lover is proposed to just after you've bonked him in the loo. Awkward factor: 10 out of 10

Girlfriend's dad catches you buying condoms. Awkward factor: 173 out of 10.

Gail, love... This is not the place to find yourself during an argument with David. Not after last time.

BULLSEYE!

It was a magnificently twisted piece of plotting that led to unknowing Paddy – trying to do right by Rhona – pleading with her rapist to come home and look after her. However, it was brilliant to then see Rhona head straight to the police to name her attacker, with a knockout performance from Zoe Henry. It's another powerful Emmerdale story that will change lives.

We love how big Deirdre's photo is on Ken's sideboard. Even now, Anne Kirkbride is stealing every scene. You can't take your eyes off her.

You wouldn't want to get on the wrong side of this lot, would you?

The First Rule of Walford...
Never trust a character without a proper name.

Two lonely men meet in the park in the middle of the day. Now this is an EastEnders romance we could really get behind.

Baby Johnny gave the best reaction to Rakesh this week. Total, 100 per cent, "Get out of town, mate".

Both of these feckless, spineless losers have made two strong, independent women lie and betray their friends, just to be with them. What a waste. Chuck the cheats, ladies!
